House Committee Offers Formula

$4 Billion Spending Cut Linked To Any Tax Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has prescribed a formula to inject new life into President Johnson's $10 billion tax-hike bill—a spending cut proposal which the administration labeled good medicine.

Breaking a weeks-long deadlock, the committee proposed Wednesday that any tax hike be accompanied by a $4 billion cut in actual spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1 plus a $14 billion slash in spending already authorized or appropriated for future years.

The committee's action removed a big roadblock in the tax proposal's progress through Congress, where it has been since last August.

But Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on a House-Senate conference committee trying to work out a compromise, said the Senate will not pass a tax-spending package that doesn't contain a $6 billion spending cut for next year—a proposal already endorsed by the Senate but opposed by the administration.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, commenting on the Appropriations Committee's recommendations—including a $4 billion spending cut—said they "meet every reasonable demand for expenditure control."

WILBUR D. MILLS
Committee Chairman.

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said: "The real logjam has been broken here today. This opens the way for the conferees to go ahead."

Laird predicted an eventual compromise which would include a $5 billion spending cut.

The full House continued its budget-cutting drive, passing a bill to appropriate $5.523 billion for the Agriculture Department, $1.4 billion less than the President requested.

In other economy-related developments:

—The Treasury Department offered a 6 per cent rate—highest since 1920—to borrow new cash and refinance part of the federal debt. The rate will be offered to holders of $8 billion in Treasury securities which mature May 15 if they agree to exchange them for a seven-year note maturing in 1975.

The high interest reflects tightening credit and sharper competition among borrowers for available money.

The department also will offer the same rate in seeking to borrow $3 billion in new cash through a 15-month security.

—The Cabinet Committee on Price Stability said efforts to control inflation are endangered by spiraling wage hikes in the construction industry, where the average settlement has amounted to an eight per cent increase.

Administration officials also voiced disappointment in the over-all pattern of union wage pacts in the first three months, when pay increases averaged six per cent.

Branigin, Kennedy, McCarthy On Ballot

Nixon, Humphrey Casting Shadows In Indiana Vote

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The names on the ballot are Branigin, Kennedy and McCarthy.

But two other names—Nixon and Humphrey—are casting shadows over Indiana's Democratic presidential primary May 7.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey publicly proclaimed himself a candidate too late to enter the primary.

But less than two days later he was talking about Indiana Gov. Roger D. Branigin, who's running as a favorite son. Humphrey commented in a nationwide television interview: "If anything I can say will be helpful to him, I want to do that."

Is Branigin a stand-in for Humphrey?

Branigin and Humphrey say no.

But the fact remains that Branigin alone is in a position to knock off Humphrey's two major opponents for the nomination—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, making his first bid in a major primary, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, trying to keep the momentum of victories in New Hampshire and Wisconsin.

Richard M. Nixon is all by himself on another ballot—the Republican presidential primary—but he's got a fight on his hands holding Republicans' interest in his uncontested race and putting down the Republicans' temptation to record their votes in the white-hot Democratic battle.

Both Branigin and McCarthy have openly courted Republican crossover votes. Technically, a crossover is illegal in Indiana. But, as a practical matter, the enforcement lies in the challenge at the polls, and the challenges have been minimal in the past.

With write-in votes forbidden, Nixon faces no greater threat in Indiana than the possibility of a low vote total resulting from either crossovers or apathy.

His backers figure the entry of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as an announced candidate may serve to keep Republicans in their own primary.

As for Nixon, he's aimed his campaign guns elsewhere so far. The former vice president's appearances in Indiana today and Friday will be the first since February.

On the Democratic side, the three-way battle is gathering a head of steam the likes of which Indiana voters have not seen since the legislature inaugurated a presidential primary in 1953.

Branigin motorcades from town to town, shaking hands and asking for votes "in the best interests of Indiana," with the full backing of the regular state Democratic organization. Kennedy is barnstorming the state by jet, train and car, and McCarthy is speaking as much as eight times a day on a schedule running from early morning to late at night.

Branigin, a lame-duck governor barred by law from re-election, got into the race as an announced stand-in for President Johnson. When Johnson with-

Chamber Speaker Airs Community 'Debate' Plan

A year - long discussion on East Liverpool's needs was suggested by Fred A. Palmer, Columbus sales consultant, at the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce's 52nd annual spring membership meeting Wednesday night. About 200 attended.

With his topic "A Time Of Change," Palmer cited the rapid growth of smaller cities across the U.S. and the technological advances, and proposed a "Great Debate" for this community in which every resident would discuss what the city should be like in 1978.

Describing the "Great Debate" held in Natchez, Miss., a community which had been dormant for many years, Palmer said residents raised money for a model of the city which had a population of 23,000 and held the "debate" which brought about exciting changes there.

The residents of Natchez discussed their hopes for the city for a full year. Then when industry showed an interest in Natchez, he continued, those in authority located them in such a way that the community was not affected by any pollution or fumes the firms might bring with their installations.

"WHAT WILL East Liverpool be like in 1978?" Palmer queried, "And Mr. Shaw (George A. Shaw, president of the Chamber of Commerce) if you can't answer that question tonight you're not in a good position. "Spend a year in the 'Great Debate', and know what you want in 10 years from now."

In Sidney, Ohio, Palmer observed, a letter was sent to the big businesses asking what parts for their factories were purchased out of town. Copies of the replies, 37 in all, then were sent to all the industries asking if, by adding one or two more machines, these companies could produce all these parts.

"And that is the fastest-growing industry in Sidney today," he declared. "Sidney took ad--

Price Of Gold Hits New Highs In Europe

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold in Europe's bullion markets rose to new highs today despite indications from Washington that Congress is preparing action to reduce the U.S. foreign payments deficit.

In the London market, the price was fixed at $39.25, up five cents on Wednesday night's close. This was the highest level since the reopening of the London market April 1.

On the London foreign exchange market, the pound dropped 13 points at the opening, apparently on the news from Washington with its implications of tougher selling conditions for British exporters in the United States. The pound opened at $2.3963, down from $2.3975, then eased another point to $2.3962.

Reagan Plans Papers About Major Issues

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan plans to spell out his position on major issues this political year in a series of papers going to "opinion molders" throughout the nation.

In his first such paper, a 22-page illustrated booklet, he called Wednesday for united public and private enterprise to "guarantee equal rights for all."

"It will not be achieved through mob action or by the torch or the club," Reagan asserted.

Aides said the position papers will be followed by others dealing with law and order, public assistance, economic growth, job opportunities, education and the quality of life in America.

The position papers will be mailed to governors, national and state leaders, businessmen, newsmen and "other opinion molders in the independent sector," the aides said, and will "point the direction the Reagan administration will take in the days and months ahead."

Reagan, who describes himself only as a favorite son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, spent last weekend speaking in Idaho and Colorado. In two weeks he leaves on a five-day tour of the South and Midwest.

Meanwhile, Reagan's role on the national political scene is straining his relations with the Democratic-controlled legisla-

Ike Reported Recovering From Attack

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is reported making excellent recovery from his third heart attack since 1955.

"The general's progress to this point has been very encouraging," medical authorities said Wednesday.

The seizure appeared less severe than those in 1965 and 1955, the experts said, adding that there have been no complications since the retired five-star general was flown here by helicopter from his winter home in Palm Desert, Calif., on Monday.

He was reported to have spent a comfortable day Wednesday. His wife Mamie, who is staying at the base hospital, was his only visitor.

He is expected to remain here several weeks, then be transferred to Walter Reed Army Hospital near Washington, D.C.

"The most critical period for any patient with a heart attack is during the first three to four days," the statement said.

6.5% Boost Reached In Phone Talks

Fringe Benefits Due 200,000 In 3-Year Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tentative contract agreement providing an increase of 6.5 per cent a year in wages and fringe benefits was announced today in the nationwide strike of some 200,000 telephone workers.

The three-year contract, a pattern for all 600,000 Bell Telephone System Workers totals 19.58 per cent in higher wages and other benefits over the life of the contract.

It will cost the Bell System more than $2 billion, said President Joseph A. Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America.

Beirne said the strike, the first nationwide telephone walkout in 21 years, could end early next week after ratification by the strikers.

In the East Liverpool area, the new top basic weekly wage for higher-rated plant craftsmen is $165 a week. For operators, the top was upped to $102 and for service representatives, $111.50.

The contract also calls for time-and-a-half for work on holidays, in addition to holiday pay, and double time for all hours worked in excess of 49 hours in a given week.

Good Friday was added as the eighth holiday with pay.

Starting next year, employees with 25 years or more service will get five weeks vacation, providing that one week is taken between Jan. 1 and April 30, or between Nov. 1 and Dec. 31 during the calendar year.

On company service pensions, the present adjustment amounting to one-fourth of the Social Security benefit, will be eliminated as of June 1 next year. On that same date, a new provision for a deferred pension will go into effect. It provides that an employee 40 years or older with at least 15 years service can leave the company and still receive a pension at age 65.

Other fringe benefits include a timetable for elimination of employee contributions to basic medical expense and group insurance, and improved sickness

Shareholder OK Needed As Wrap-Up

Company Operates New Jersey-Based Plants In 22 States

Crucible Steel Corp. officials today announced approval of plans for a merger with Walter Kidde & Co., a diversified corporation with 80 plants in 22 states, employing 25,000 workers.

The proposal was agreed upon at New York Wednesday during meetings of the Crucible board of directors and the Kidde executive committee acting for the Kidde board of directors.

Both voted to recommend to shareholders an approval of the merger. A special meeting of shareholders of both firms is expected late in June or early July.

Announcement of the merger plan was made by John C. Lobb, Crucible president; Frank Sullivan, chairman of the Kidde board, and Franc M. Ricciardi, Kidde president.

ACCORDING to Sullivan, each share of Crucible common stock will be exchanged for one-quarter share of Kidde convertible preferred stock paying annual dividends of $5 plus four-tenths of a share or $28.75 cents worth of Kidde common stock, whichever is greater at the time of closing.

Lobb reported the package is according to independent investment bankers, equal or slightly better than the original offer of $50 in value of Kidde stock.

Lobb pointed out the Crucible board "is completely satisfied with the specific details of organization,, management and continuity of the proposal for the combined corporation," adding, "ample provisions have been made for full maintenance of existing employe benefits."

THE JOINT announcement said that Crucible, upon consumation of the merger, would operate as an autonomous subsidiary under its present corporation name and management. Three representatives of Crucible would be named to the Kidde board.

Heaviest Fighting Since Tet Offensive

1,139 Of Enemy Killed As Battles Rage In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnam's war's heaviest sustained fighting since the Communist command's Tet offensive in February raged through a fourth day today in the northeast corner of South Vietnam. Allied forces reported 1,139 enemy killed in continuing battles near Hue and Dong Ha.

In savage fighting two miles northeast of Dong Ha, a North Vietnamese counterattack today repulsed Leathernecks assaulting an enemy bunker complex.

U.S. headquarters said the North Vietnamese hit the advancing Marine column with heavy artillery and mortar fire.

"The enemy launched a strong counterattack causing the friendly units to lose ground," headquarters said. At last report, more air strikes were being called is on the enemy positions.

Dong Ha is headquarters of the 3rd Marine Division and anchors the allied outposts along the eastern flank of the demilitarized zone that separates the two Vietnams.

Marines from the 3rd and 4th regiments have been locked in bitter bunker-to-bunker fighting since Tuesday with North Vietnamese troops menacing Dong Ha.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported that in the fighting around Dong Ha and Hue since Monday, 93 of their men were killed and 449 wounded.

If the casualty figures are accurate, they indicate allied forces are killing 12 enemy soldiers for every American and South Vientamese killed in the recent heavy fighting.

U.S. commanders in the northern sector also reported that the 15,000-man allied force sweeping the A Shau Valley southwest of Hue had cut one of the enemy's main supply and infiltration routes from North Vietnam. But "there are still a lot of nooks and crannies we have not looked into," said Marine Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman, commander of U.S. forces in the northern provinces.

In the fighting outside Hue, the enemy dead included a North Vietsamese battalion commander, a battalion executive officer and three company commanders. U.S. paratroopers also reported the surrender of 97 North Vietnamese troops, including five women nurses.

It was believed to be the war's biggest bag of prisoners. The captives said their battalion was to become the occupation force for Hue after another enemy offensive they said was planned. The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong captured most of Hue in February and held it for weeks.

Hard fighting and artillery duels continued again today on both sides of Dong Ha, headquarters of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The biggest battle was going on two miles northeast of Dong Ha, where the Marines have been locked in combat with North Vietnamese troops since Tuesday.

North Vietnamese gunners opened up with artillery barrages on a unit of the 4th Marine Regiment sweeping the area. Later the enemy tried an unsuccessful counter-attack on

'Doesn't Meet LBJ's Conditions'

Hanoi Turns Down Ship As Site For Peace Talks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the North Vietnamese Embassy in Vientiane today rejected the proposal to hold preliminary peace talks with the United States aboard an Indonesian cruiser in the Gulf of Tonkin. The United States had accepted the proposal, but North Vietnamese rejection was expected in Washington.

Terming the ship board talks "unacceptable" to the Hanoi government the North Vietnamese spokesman said the proposal by the Indonesian government "does not meet a single one of President Johnson's own conditions for preliminary contacts.

"It shows that the four conditions set by Johnson are merely a pretext for avoiding preliminary contacts," he asserted. "The United States is looking for one pretext after another because it wants to continue the war."

Recalling Johnson's demand for a neutral site for the talks, the spokesman said "Indonesia is not neutral," an indication that Hanoi considers the Jakarta government pro-Western since President Sukarno's ouster.

"Furthermore, contacts held on a ship would exclude representatives of other countries and of the press and would not permit what President Johnson called 'adequate communications'—conditions set by Johnson himself," the spokesman added.

He said Hanoi still insists the talks be held either in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw.

Man Kills 2, Captured In Pennsylvania

CLEARFIELD, Pa. (AP) — State police said a Clearfield County man went on a shooting spree, gunning down two men and missing a third before being overpowered and captured.

Elmer Ulbrick, 44, of Houtzdale, was charged with two counts of murder and lodged in the county jail.

He was arrested after the Wednesday night shootings at the Royal Oak Tavern in Smithmill where a patron grabbed him when he pointed a shotgun at the owner, a state police spokesman said.

Dead were Michael Tomchick, 34, of Houtzdale, and Michael Cowell, 62, of Morann.

State police said they were both shot in their homes between 9 and 9:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The gunman then went to the home of Andrew Saupp, 38, in Ramey, and fired but missed, the spokesman said.

Ulbrick was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Harry Ganoe in Clearfield and held for a hearing at a date to be set.

State police said they didn't know the motive for the shootings.

Vietnam

a village captured by the Leathernecks two days ago.

A Marine helicopter supporting the Marines was shot down in flames by enemy small arms fire. One man was burned to death and two others were wounded.

South of Hue, enemy gunners fired more than 100 mortar rounds into the Phu Bai military complex, headquarters of the U.S. command center directing tactical operations from Hue to the demilitarized zone. U.S. spokesmen said casualties were light.

The big North Vietnamese surrender came at the end of a three-day battle fought by American paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division who cordoned off the village of Phuoc Yen, four miles northwest of Hue.

The paratroopers trapped a North Vietnamese battalion while artillery and helicopter gunships hammered the enemy.

American losses were described as light.

Across the country to the southwest, the flying horsemen of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division and a force of South Vietnamese infantrymen continued Operation Delaware in the A Shau Valley. Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, the U.S. Command's chief of information, told newsmen the drive to clear the North Vietnamese stronghold has been successful so far and has uncovered some of the largest enemy arms caches of the war.

In the first sizable report to newsmen since Operation Delaware began April 19, Cushman said up to Tuesday the allied force had) killed 551 North Vietnamese. Of these, 440 were credited to the U.S. 101st Airborne Division, which is clearing along the main enemy supply route between the A Shau Valley and Hue.

The general said 82 Americans have been killed and 442 wounded so far.

South Vietnamese casualties were reported running very light.

The 1st Air Cavalry also had 30 helicopters destroyed or damaged in the first 24 hours of the operation, and since then 20 more have been destroyed or damaged by antiaircraft fire. Enemy guns also brought down a $2.5 million C130 cargo-transport plane and a twin-engine observation plane.

In the air war against North Vietnam, U.S. spokesmen said American jets continued to limit their attacks Wednesday to the panhandle area between the demilitarized zone and the 19th Parallel. But Hanoi Radio claimed a U.S. plane dropped at least 10 bombs on an island off Haiphong Wednesday—120 miles north of the parallel and was shot down. There was no announcement from the U.S. Command of any American plane losses over the North.

An American spokesman said the Air Force's F111s resumed raids against North Vietnam Wednesday night. It was the second time the swing-wing jets flew combat missions against the North Vietnam since the loss of a third F111 on April 23. The other mission was last Friday.

The $6 million planes pounded truck parks and military storage areas around Dong Hoi, 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The pilots flew on radar and were unable to assess the damage because of an overcast.

In its weekly casualty report the U.S. Command said that 30 Americans were killed last week and 2,458 wounded, an increase from the 287 killed and 1,458 wounded the week before. South Vietnamese casualties, however, were reduced slightly: 253 killed, 785 wounded and seven missing, compared with 380 killed, 973 wounded and 30 missing the week before.

The American and South Vietnamese commands reported 1,729 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed last week, compared with a revised total of 2,397 killed for the week before.

State Issues Merit 'Yes' Vote

Three proposals for changes in the Ohio Constitution will be before voters in the upcoming primary election. The Review recommends a "Yes" vote on each issue.

Issue No. 1

This proposal would authorize replacement of a complex, costly formula for annual distribution of interest on money retained by the state from the sale or lease of school and ministerial lands.

Issue 1 would repeal the existing section of the Ohio constitution regarding the land and would permit the Ohio General Assembly to formulate a means of liquidating funds held a long time and do away with the yearly distribution of interest.

For more than a century, the Ohio Constitution has required the state to hold all funds received from the sale or lease of school and ministerial lands. They have been paid into a fund known as the "irreducible debt." It is the 6 per cent interest from this fund that is distributed each year.

State Auditor Roger Cloud reports approval of the proposal along with favorable action on Congress on companion federal legislation, would relieve his office and all county auditors of the obligation of "complicated and unnecessary bookkeeping and distribution functions now required by law in the management of the irreducible debt."

Issue No. 2

This issue would clear the way for vacancies in the House of Representatives to be filled in the same manner Ohio Senate vacancies are filled.

At present, if a vacancy occurs, the governor may call a special election, or the vacancy continues until the next general election.

If Issue 2 is approved, when a member dies or resigns, the members of his party already serving in the House would appoint a person of the same party from the member's home district to serve the remainder of the unexpired term.

Issue No. 3

While the other two issues are in the routine category, Issue No. 3 is highly important to the residents of Ohio. It is a proposal to streamline certain areas of the state's judicial system.

The proposal provides for simplification and efficiency in those courts established by the Ohio Constitution — Supreme Court, court of appeals, common pleas courts and probate courts.

The issue has been supported by judges and attorneys throughout the state, and has been endorsed by the Columbiana County Bar Association.

It calls for a number of modernization steps including authorization for the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court to assign judges into courts with overloaded dockets; prohibits election or appointment of a judge who would be 70 or older when his term begins and standardizes procedures by placing the courts under the "general superintendence" of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Voter approval of Issue No. 3 would be a move toward judicial progress in Ohio.

Concession Doesn't Hurt Veep

One of the first statements about the Vietnam War made by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey since he declared his candidacy for the presidency is a refreshing one.

The vice president conceded that the Johnson administration may have "overspoken" in declaring that it would go anywhere at any time for peace talks.

Since, as events have shown, we certainly did not mean that we would go anywhere, to have said so was a first-class blunder — diplomatic, semantic or what have you.

It was not a slip of the tongue. It was a carefully prepared speech in which the President made his declaration. Neither was it a one-time statement. He repeated it.

Indeed, it was the type of unthought-out pronouncement which causes the man in the street to waggle his head in sheer disbelief.

All of the reasons now being given in explanation of why the United States couldn't go just anywhere to talk with the Vietnamese were known before the President made his declaration. Why, then, were they disregarded?

Hanoi and its backers were handed a propaganda bonanza in the "We'll go anywhere" statement and they have exploited it skillfully, making the United States look like an international wretch whose word is absolutely untrustworthy.

It was long in coming, but Mr. Humphrey's statement is a welcome one. And it tends to give him a little aura of honesty that should be helpful to him in his candidacy.

Where Does It End?

Somehow the real danger in a trend toward support for a program of civil disobedience has become obscured.

Proponents of the philosophy that accepts an individual's prerogative to disobey a law he doesn't like must face up to the question: Where does it end?

If one law can be disobeyed, why cannot all laws be disobeyed? If each man is to determine for himself which laws are to be ignored and which ones are to be followed, how can a government function?

ERWIN N. GRISWOLD, U.S. solicitor general, recently spoke out on the matter. He concluded an individual has the moral right to dissent, but if the form of dissent is illegal, the lawbreaker should be willing to accept the consequences of due process of law.

Procedures are available for getting rid of unjust, unnecessary and unenforceable laws. It isn't necessary to undermine the whole system of jurisprudence to wipe out a bad law.

No one destroys a whole bed of flowers to get rid of a patch of weeds.

The orderliness of government function depends upon law. Society must have a system of regulations to exist in an acceptable form.

The central issue in the controversy is emerging in preliminary legal sparring before the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others charged with conspiring to oppose the draft by illegal means.

Their defense rests on the belief the First Amendment's free speech guarantee protects not only their actions of counseling in behalf of draft resistance, but also permits other actions that fall into a "symbolic speech" category.

Mr. Griswold, while not commenting on the Spock case specifically, expresses the other side of the argument in this statement: "I submit that one cannot rightly engage in conduct which is otherwise unlawful merely because he intends that either that conduct or the idea he wishes to express in the course of the conduct is intended to manifest his dissent from some government policy."

Without a solid foundation of laws, our nation would disintegrate.

To see that this foundation remains firm, the first order of business is to prosecute swiftly lawlessness of any type — crime in the streets, rioting or otherwise.

Just Behind Paris

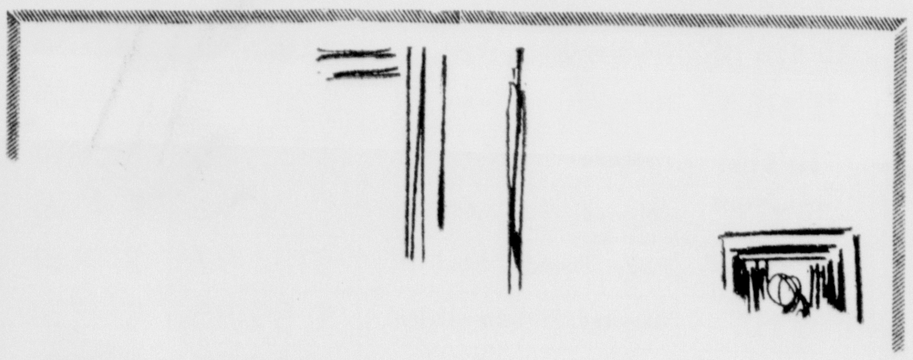

Despite the current political campaign oratory and rehearsals for spring concerts, our fair community must accept the lower rankings when it comes to noise — even to Western Europe where a recent survey showed Paris not only the city of light but the city of loud.

Theodore Berland, an American science writer, found his portable noise meter reading 99 decibels aboard a steel-wheeled Parisian subway train, compared to 95 decibels on a Chicago subway and 90 decibels in London's underground.

Though East Liverpool would not rate consistently high on the decibel scale, a lot of people would like to know what the reading would be in a late afternoon on lower St. Clair Ave. with five motorbikes, a tractor, two dump trucks and 30 cars laboring uphill after a vintage ex-VMT bus.

This 'n That

The ocarina, a musical wind instrument sometimes known as the "sweet potato," means "little goose" in Italy, where it originated in the late 19th century as a development from the carnival whistle made of earthenware, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

'You Just Fill In The Bottom Line!'

Ruthless Hubert

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert Humphrey's surprise announcement that he was a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination caught newspapermen in Washington flatfooted.

Art Buchwald

For waiting less than a month after President Johnson announced he would not run, Humphrey has been accused of being opportunistic and ruthless by backers of Sens. Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy.

A McCarthy manager, when informed of the news, said, "It's typical of Hubert Humphrey to disregard all the amenities of politics and try to steal the nomination away from Eugene McCarthy. But I believe the American people will see through this attempted power grab. At least Robert Kennedy had the decency to send his brother Teddy to see Sen. McCarthy at 3 o'clock in the morning before he announced. But Humphrey wouldn't even send his sister."

I ASKED THE MANAGER if I might get a statement from McCarthy.

The reply was, "The senator will soon have a poem which he will release to the press."

Over at Kennedy headquarters things were even grimmer. "The Vice President is dividing the Democratic Party," a spokesman said. "Even more than Eugene McCarthy. If Bobby had any hint of what Hubert Humphrey had planned to do, he would have reassessed his position."

Another Kennedy worker added, "The Vice President hopes to cash in on the Humphrey name, but he's going to discover that people will resent it. And if he thinks he can buy this election with Muriel's millions he's sadly mistaken."

I ASKED THE KENNEDY backers if they thought Vice President Hubert Humphrey would be able to change his ruthless image by convention time.

"They'll do anything over there to make Hubert look like a good guy. But it won't work. Don't forget Hubert Humphrey was in the Senate when all the wiretapping was going on in Washington, and he can't say he didn't know it was going on."

A third Kennedy backer said, "Hubert may have the college kids and they can tear his clothes off and muss up his hair, but I would like to know how they translate that into votes."

One of the Kennedy volunteers blamed Humphrey's entry into the race on fatigue.

He said, "If we all hadn't been so tired in 1960 we would never have chosen Lyndon Johnson as vice president, and then he would never have chosen Hubert Humphrey as his vice president in 1964.

THE WHITE HOUSE was silent on Hubert Humphrey's announcement. A spokesman said, "We intend to remain neutral and work for peace."

"Then why are you painting that sign 'Humphrey for President' on the porch?" I asked.

"It's only temporary until the neon one arrives from New York."

"Will the President make a statement concerning his preference for a nominee before the convention?"

"If you were President Johnson and you knew how each of the candidates had served you, how could you possibly make a choice?"

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

If you are like me, you prefer to avoid embarrassing, frustrating and terrifying experiences.

Such an experience can come when a loved one, a member of your family is taken to the hospital and you are informed that surgery is going to be needed.

And because surgery is needed, there will also be needed two or four pints of blood in case of transfusions. Please note the blood must be in the blood bank before the necessary surgery is performed.

Many times you will have less than 12 hours to secure the donors for the blood. Perhaps you have gone through this experience; if not, you can well imagine the embarrassment, the frustration and the terror you feel as you try to locate people to give blood for your loved one.

A natural reaction to this situation is anger— anger at the hospital and the docotr — but please remember the Blood Bank or the hospital does not manufacture blood. They can only get it from people such as you and I.

In talking to Dr. Roy Costello of the hospital staff, he informed me the supply of blood is precariously low at the City Hospital at present. So to help the hospital and to help your[illegible] loved ones, why don't you sign [illegible] family Blood Bank Pla[illegible] thus assuring yourself in e[illegible]

To those who have worked and contributed time and money, a special thank you.

We cannot thank individuals and businesses by name for cooperation in donating space and money, but we are sure you know what we mean.

We have still a long way to go, but with the cooperation we have had from the whole school district thus far, it will not take too long.

We express our sincere appreciation to the firm, particularly Dean Schneider, Chip Hassola, Bob Sprouse and William Enochs for their time and effort in making our tour interesting.

New Crisis

A new crisis is emerging in Asia. Many of the smaller countries are beginning to worry about the possibility that the United States may give in to North Vietnamese pressure and agree to let the Communist-controlled rebels in the south —known as the National Liberation Front—play a vital part in the coming truce negotiations.

What is mostly feared is that some "face-saving" formula is in prospect which will really mean in the end a takeover of all of Vietnam by the Communists.

It happens that Communist activity has been sharply increased inside several countries in Asia. South Korea is fighting stepped-up infiltration and subversion by North Korea Communists.

INDONESIA IS encountering guerrilla warfare with Chinese minorities in the northern part of the country. Cambodia is being troubled by sporadic guerrilla activities in three provinces. At least one third of Laos is under the control of Communist forces, and 40,000 North Vietnamese troops are in that country.

The northern provinces of Thailand are the scene of red terrorism and subversion. New trouble has been stirred up in Burma as well as in northeast India.

In the fact of all this, what is the United States going to do? Pull out of South Vietnam? The prime minister of Malaysia said recently:

"If the Americans, for some reason, decided to give up this war in Vietnam and the North decided to take over the South, then it will be the end of all us."

Inside the Unied States, both Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy, two of the Democratic aspirants for the presidential nomination, favor a "coalition" in the government of South Vietnam to include the National Liberation Front.

President Johnson has said that the NLF representatives could be consulted during the peace conference, but that he does not favor their participation directly in the negotiations or in the government to rule subsequent to the peace agreement.

These comments are being interpreted throughout Asia nevertheless as meaning that the United States is trying somehow to wiggle out of Vietnam in order to meet domestic pressures.

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam shortly will meet in Washington with President Johnson and outline his reasons why a "coalition" agreement of any kind would be fatal to the Saigon government. An American official in southeast Asia is quoted this week in "U.S. News World Report" as follows:

"Thieu's government would be overthrown by the South Vietnamese army within 24 hours if he puts his signature on a document that let the liberation front into the government."

Another U.S. official in Saigon makes this comment:

"No representative of the National Liberation Front is going to be welcome in Saigon. Let them step out of the jungle and they would be assassinated. Or is Washington going to break up the South Vietnamese army and take away its guns?"

A spokesman for the State Department declared Monday that the "Alliance of National, Democratic and Peace Forces" a Vietnamese group which broadcast a manifesto from Hanoi over the wekend—would not be accepted by the United States government as a participant in the peace negotiations.

THE DEPARTMENT'S press officer, Robert J. McCloskey, noted that the "alliance" talked about setting up a national coalition government, and he made it clear that the United States does not intend to deal with the "alliance" in any way, because it is considered an organization directed by the National Liberation Front.

The officials of governments in southeast Asia, of course, read the American newspapers. A number of editorials have appeared in prominent places in this country advocating a compromise which would lead to the withdrawal of American troops.

Since the presidential campaign undoubtedly will focus attention on the Vietnam issue, the Asian governments are apprehensive that the Johnson administration, despite its firmness heretofore, will indicate a willingness to make concessions which in the long run could only mean the overthrow of the South Vietnamese government and the rise of a Communist regime in Saigon.

State Issues Merit 'Yes' Vote

Three proposals for changes in the Ohio Constitution will be before voters in the upcoming primary election. The Review recommends a "Yes" vote on each issue.

Issue No. 1

This proposal would authorize replacement of a complex, costly formula for annual distribution of interest on money retained by the state from the sale or lease of school and ministerial lands.

Issue 1 would repeal the existing section of the Ohio constitution regarding the land and would permit the Ohio General Assembly to formulate a means of liquidating funds held a long time and do away with the yearly distribution of interest.

For more than a century, the Ohio Constitution has required the state to hold all funds received from the sale or lease of school and ministerial lands. They have been paid into a fund known as the "irreducible debt." It is the 6 per cent interest from this fund that is distributed each year.

State Auditor Roger Cloud reports approval of the proposal along with favorable action on Congress on companion federal legislation, would relieve his office and all county auditors of the obligation of "complicated and unnecessary bookkeeping and distribution functions now required by law in the management of the irreducible debt."

Issue No. 2

This issue would clear the way for vacancies in the House of Representatives to be filled in the same manner Ohio Senate vacancies are filled.

At present, if a vacancy occurs, the governor may call a special election, or the vacancy continues until the next general election.

If Issue 2 is approved, when a member dies or resigns, the members of his party already serving in the House would appoint a person of the same party from the member's home district to serve the remainder of the unexpired term.

Issue No. 3

While the other two issues are in the routine category, Issue No. 3 is highly important to the residents of Ohio. It is a proposal to streamline certain areas of the state's judicial system.

The proposal provides for simplification and efficiency in those courts established by the Ohio Constitution — Supreme Court, court of appeals, common pleas courts and probate courts.

The issue has been supported by judges and attorneys throughout the state, and has been endorsed by the Columbiana County Bar Association.

It calls for a number of modernization steps including authorization for the chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court to assign judges into courts with overloaded dockets; prohibits election or appointment of a judge who would be 70 or older when his term begins and standardizes procedures by placing the courts under the "general superintendence" of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Voter approval of Issue No. 3 would be a move toward judicial progress in Ohio.

Concession Doesn't Hurt Veep

One of the first statements about the Vietnam War made by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey since he declared his candidacy for the presidency is a refreshing one.

The vice president conceded that the Johnson administration may have "overspoken" in declaring that it would go anywhere at any time for peace talks.

Since, as events have shown, we certainly did not mean that we would go anywhere, to have said so was a first-class blunder — diplomatic, semantic or what have you.

It was not a slip of the tongue. It was a carefully prepared speech in which the President made his declaration. Neither was it a one-time statement. He repeated it.

Indeed, it was the type of unthought-out pronouncement which causes the man in the street to waggle his head in sheer disbelief.

All of the reasons now being given in explanation of why the United States couldn't go just anywhere to talk with the Vietnamese were known before the President made his declaration. Why, then, were they disregarded?

Hanoi and its backers were handed a propaganda bonanza in the "We'll go anywhere" statement and they have exploited it skillfully, making the United States look like an international wretch whose word is absolutely untrustworthy.

It was long in coming, but Mr. Humphrey's statement is a welcome one. And it tends to give him a little aura of honesty that should be helpful to him in his candidacy.

Where Does It End?

Somehow the real danger in a trend toward support for a program of civil disobedience has become obscured.

Proponents of the philosophy that accepts an individual's prerogative to disobey a law he doesn't like must face up to the question: Where does it end?

If one law can be disobeyed, why cannot all laws be disobeyed? If each man is to determine for himself which laws are to be ignored and which ones are to be followed, how can a government function?

ERWIN N. GRISWOLD, U.S. solicitor general, recently spoke out on the matter. He concluded an individual has the moral right to dissent, but if the form of dissent is illegal, the lawbreaker should be willing to accept the consequences of due process of law.

Procedures are available for getting rid of unjust, unnecessary and unenforceable laws. It isn't necessary to undermine the whole system of jurisprudence to wipe out a bad law.

No one destroys a whole bed of flowers to get rid of a patch of weeds.

The orderliness of government function depends upon law. Society must have a system of regulations to exist in an acceptable form.

The central issue in the controversy is emerging in preliminary legal sparring before the trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others charged with conspiring to oppose the draft by illegal means.

Their defense rests on the belief the First Amendment's free speech guarantee protects not only their actions of counseling in behalf of draft resistance, but also permits other actions that fall into a "symbolic speech" category.

Mr. Griswold, while not commenting on the Spock case specifically, expresses the other side of the argument in this statement: "I submit that one cannot rightly engage in conduct which is otherwise unlawful merely because he intends that either that conduct or the idea he wishes to express in the course of the conduct is intended to manifest his dissent from some government policy."

Without a solid foundation of laws, our nation would disintegrate.

To see that this foundation remains firm, the first order of business is to prosecute swiftly lawlessness of any type — crime in the streets, rioting or otherwise.

Just Behind Paris

Despite the current political campaign oratory and rehearsals for spring concerts, our fair community must accept the lower rankings when it comes to noise — even to Western Europe where a recent survey showed Paris not only the city of light but the city of loud.

Theodore Berland, an American science writer, found his portable noise meter reading 99 decibels aboard a steel-wheeled Parisian subway train, compared to 95 decibels on a Chicago subway and 90 decibels in London's underground.

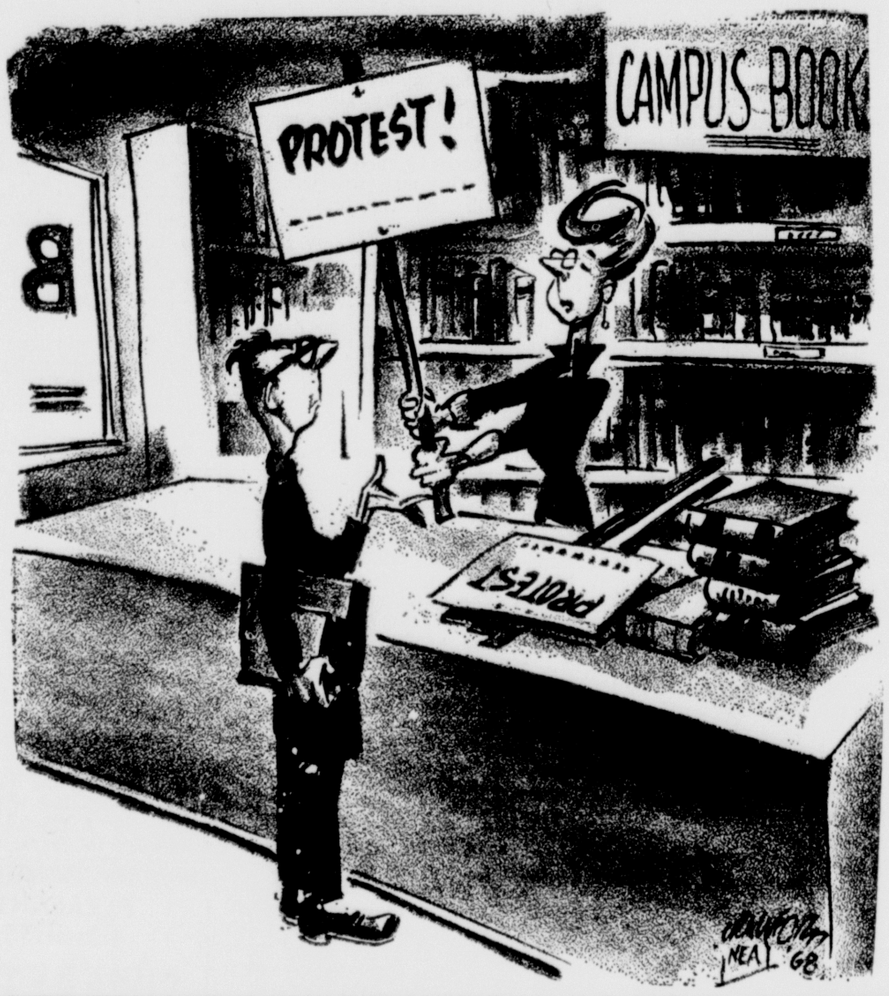

Though East Liverpool would not rate consistently high on the decibel scale, a lot of people would like to know what the reading would be in a late afternoon on lower St. Clair Ave. with five motorbikes, a tractor, two dump trucks and 30 cars laboring uphill after a vintage ex-VMT bus.

'You Just Fill In The Bottom Line!'

Ruthless Hubert

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert Humphrey's surprise announcement that he was a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination caught newspapermen in Washington flatfooted.

Art Buchwald

For waiting less than a month after President Johnson announced he would not run, Humphrey has been accused of being opportunistic and ruthless by backers of Sens. Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy.

A McCarthy manager, when informed of the news, said, "It's typical of Hubert Humphrey to disregard all the amenities of politics and try to steal the nomination away from Eugene McCarthy. But I believe the American people will see through this attempted power grab. At least Robert Kennedy had the decency to send his brother Teddy to see Sen. McCarthy at 3 o'clock in the morning before he announced. But Humphrey wouldn't even send his sister."

I ASKED THE MANAGER if I might get a statement from McCarthy.

The reply was, "The senator will soon have a poem which he will release to the press."

Over at Kennedy headquarters things were even grimmer. "The Vice President is dividing the Democratic Party," a spokesman said. "Even more than Eugene McCarthy, if Bobby had any hint of what Hubert Humphrey had planned to do, he would have reassessed his position."

Another Kennedy worker added, "The Vice President hopes to cash in on the Humphrey name, but he's going to discover that people will resent it. And if he thinks he can buy this election with Muriel's millions he's sadly mistaken."

I ASKED THE KENNEDY backers if they thought Vice President Hubert Humphrey would be able to change his ruthless image by convention time.

"They'll do anything over there to make Hubert look like a good guy. But it won't work. Don't forget Hubert Humphrey was in the Senate when all the wiretapping was going on in Washington, and he can't say he didn't know it was going on."

A third Kennedy backer said, "Hubert may have the college kids and they can tear his clothes off and muss up his hair, but I would like to know how they translate that into votes."

One of the Kennedy volunteers blamed Humphrey's entry into the race on fatigue.

He said, "If we all hadn't been so tired in 1960 we would never have chosen Lyndon Johnson as vice president, and then he would never have chosen Hubert Humphrey as his vice president in 1964.

THE WHITE HOUSE was silent on Hubert Humphrey's announcement. A spokesman said, "We intend to remain neutral and work for peace."

"Then why are you painting that sign 'Humphrey for President' on the porch?" I asked.

"It's only temporary until the neon one arrives from New York."

"Will the President make a statement concerning his preference for a nominee before the convention?"

"If you were President Johnson and you knew how each of the candidates had served you, how could you possibly make a choice?"

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

If you are like me, you prefer to avoid embarrassing, frustrating and terrifying experiences.

Such an experience can come when a loved one, a member of your family is taken to the hospital and you are informed that surgery is going to be needed.

And because surgery is needed, there will also be needed two or four pints of blood in case of transfusions. Please note the blood must be in the blood bank before the necessary surgery is performed.

Many times you will have less than 12 hours to secure the donors for the blood. Perhaps you have gone through this experience; if not, you can well imagine the embarrassment, the frustration and the terror you feel as you try to locate people to give blood for your loved one.

A natural reaction to this situation is anger—anger at the hospital and the docotr — but please remember the Blood Bank or the hospital does not manufacture blood. They can only get it from people such as you and I.

In talking to Dr. Roy Costello of the hospital staff, he informed me the supply of blood is precariously low at the City Hospital at present.

So, to help the hospital and to help yourself and your loved ones, why don't you sign up for the Family Blood Bank Plan and become a donor, thus assuring yourself and your loved ones of blood in event of need during the next 12 months.

There is no cost; only an annual blood deposit is required to guarantee total family blood replacement for one year. For information and appointment, telephone City Hospital.

Let me urge you to become a donor now.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We, the wrestlers of Beaver Local, varsity and reserve teams, along with those in sixth through eighth grades, and members of the Wrestling Committee extend our warmest thanks to each person who is helping and has helped our drive to raise funds for a wrestling mat.

To those who have worked and contributed time and money, a special thank you.

We cannot thank individuals and businesses by name for cooperation in donating space and money, but we are sure you know what we mean.

We have still a long way to go, but with the cooperation we have had from the whole school district thus far, it will not take too long.

Thank you.

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

We would like to commend the management and employes of the Economy Manufacturing Co. for their educational tour for city students.

We express our sincere appreciation to the firm, particularly Dean Schneider, Chip Hassola, Bob Sprouse and William Enochs for their time and effort in making our tour interesting.

In a time of seemingly complacent attitudes toward youth, it is gratifying to see a business take the time and expense to further our understanding of industry.

New Crisis

A new crisis is emerging in Asia. Many of the smaller countries are beginning to worry about the possibility that the United States may give in to North Vietnamese pressure and agree to let the Communist-controlled rebels in the south —known as the National Liberation Front—play a vital part in the coming truce negotiations.

What is mostly feared is that some "face-saving" formula is in prospect which will really mean in the end a takeover of all of Vietnam by the Communists.

It happens that Communist activity has been sharply increased inside several countries in Asia. South Korea is fighting stepped-up infiltration and subversion by North Korea Communists.

INDONESIA IS encountering guerrilla warfare with Chinese minorities in the northern part of the country. Cambodia is being troubled by sporadic guerrilla activities in three provinces. At least one third of Laos is under the control of Communist forces, and 40,000 North Vietnamese troops are in that country.

The northern provinces of Thailand are the scene of red terrorism and subversion. New trouble has been stirred up in Burma as well as in northeast India.

In the fact of all this, what is the United States going to do? Pull out of South Vietnam? The prime minister of Malaysia said recently:

"If the Americans, for some reason, decided to give up this war in Vietnam and the North decided to take over the South, then it will be the end of all us."

Inside the Unied States, both Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy, two of the Democratic aspirants for the presidential nomination, favor a "coalition" in the government of South Vietnam to include the National Liberation Front.

President Johnson has said that the NLF representatives could be consulted during the peace conference, but that he does not favor their participation directly in the negotiations or in the government to rule subsequent to the peace agreement.

These comments are being interpreted throughout Asia nevertheless as meaning that the United States is trying somehow to wiggle out of Vietnam in order to meet domestic pressures.

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam shortly will meet in Washington with President Johnson and outline his reasons why a "coalition" agreement of any kind would be fatal to the Saigon government. An American official in southeast Asia is quoted this week in "U.S. News World Report" as follows:

"Thieu's government would be overthrown by the South Vietnamese army within 24 hours if he puts his signature on a document that let the liberation front into the government."

Another U.S. official in Saigon makes this comment:

"No representative of the National Liberation Front is going to be welcome in Saigon. Let them step out of the jungle and they would be assassinated. Or is Washington going to break up the South Vietnamese army and take away its guns?"

A spokesman for the State Department declared Monday that the "Alliance of National, Democratic and Peace Forces" a Vietnamese group which broadcast a manifesto from Hanoi over the wekend—would not be accepted by the United States government as a participant in the peace negotiations.

THE DEPARTMENT'S press officer, Robert J. McCloskey, noted that the "alliance" talked about setting up a national coalition government, and he made it clear that the United States does not intend to deal with the "alliance" in any way, because it is considered an organization directed by the National Liberation Front.

The officials of governments in southeast Asia, of course, read the American newspapers. A number of editorials have appeared in prominent places in this country advocating a compromise which would lead to the withdrawal of American troops.

Since the presidential campaign undoubtedly will focus attention on the Vietnam issue, the Asian governments are apprehensive that the Johnson administration, despite its firmness heretofore, will indicate a willingness to make concessions which in the long run could only mean the overthrow of the South Vietnamese government and the rise of a Communist regime in Saigon.

Moore Airs His Plans For West Virginia

The low ranking of West Virginia in comparison with the other 49 states can and should be reversed, Rep. Arch Moore, Republican candidate for governor of West Virginia, told 150 at a reception in Chester Wednesday night.

Rep. Moore visited the Chester Bridge, which engineers have recommended be replaced because of structural weakness, and said immediate action is needed to expedite planning for a new bridge "with our neighboring state of Ohio."

He said he thought the construction could be undertaken through additional taxes or by imposing a toll.

Moore arrived from visits at New Cumberland and New Manchester and was at the Chester American Legion for 45 minutes before leaving for Weirton. He was scheduled to go on to Beckley later.

The congressman was introduced by Dale Allison. He listed his qualifications and reasons for seeking the gubernatorial post.

He said he recognized the limitation of funds from taxpayers to undertake significant changes in the state, but said if elected he intended to survey the whole state administrative system and to "get rid of the fat hidden in the budget."

The congressman discussed other proposals, including a revamping of the long - range planning for education — public and college — so as to retain young people and the teachers in the state, and to attract bigger and better industries.

He was accompanied by Atty. Edwin Flowers and George Lesho, campaign managers. Other candidates were introduced.

Registration Set On May 14 For Lisbon Schools

LISBON — Children entering Lisbon schools for the first time next September will be registered May 14 from 1 to 3 p.m. at McKinley school.

Youngsters must be five years old by next Sept. 30 to enter kindergarten and six by Sept. 30 to enter first grade. Children attending kindergarten this year need not register.

Supt. Joe W. Driscoll said only one registration session is planned, since immunizations are no longer given at the school. They may be obtained at the County Health Department on the third floor of the Courthouse from 8:30 to 11 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Parents must sign a statement they are financially unable to get immunizations from their doctor.

State law requires that a child entering school must be immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, smallpox and polio, Driscoll said.

Registration sheets have been mailed to parents known to have children who will enter school next fall. Parents completing the form on registration day will need proof of the child's birth date and his immunization record.

Anyone who cannot take the completed sheet to McKinley School on registration day should mail it to Lincoln School or McKinley School before May 17, Driscoll said.

Stokes Appeals To Cleveland On Redevelopment

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes went on television Wednesday night to appeal to the community to commit itself to a massive $1.5 billion redevelopment program over the next 10 years.

Stokes asnounced the program —Cleveland Now!—in special appearances on five Cleveland television stations.

He said the immediate aim of the program was a six - point, $177 million plan aimed primarily at the city's Negro areas.

In the next 18 months the program will be directed at employment, youth, health and welfare, neighborhood rehabilitation, economic revitalization and future planning, Stokes said.

Stokes said the business community will be asked to contribute $10 million in a 10-day campaign to be conducted by the Greater Cleveland Growth Association.

Group 66, an organization of young businessmen, will try to raise $1.25 million in contributions from private citizens, the mayor added.

He said most of the money—$143 million—will be sought from the federal money with a local commitment of $34 million making up the budget for the first 18-month program.

Midland Starts Planning For Sewage Plant Work

The Midland Municipal Authority has taken initial steps toward upgrading its sewage treatment plant and an engineering firm currently is in the process of compiling a detailed report on the work needed to meet state requirements. A tentative work schedule has been established.

The authority also has filed a letter with the Pennsylvania Health Department's regional sanitary engineer at Meadville explaining how the work might be done.

MIDLAND is one of 44 Pennsylvania municipalities, authorities, institutions and industries notified Jan. 19 that they must upgrade the treatment given sewage wastes prior to the discharge into state rivers and streams.

Michael Baker Jr., Inc., borough engineer, was authorized to compile the letter to the regional engineer. The letter was filed within the 60-day limit on March 19. It spelled out how the authority proposes to comply with the state's directive.

The authority will prepare a preliminary report within six months. If the report meets with state approval, the borough engineer will then prepare plans and specifications. The actual construction period would follow.

An on - the - spot estimate of the project was set at $150,000 in January.

HOWEVER, Granville Kester Jr. of the engineering firm said there is no way of determining the actual cost until the report has been filed and plans have been drawn up.

The engineering firm is in the process of compiling the report now. This should be completed by Aug. 20. The authority plans to authorize the engineers to draw plans and specifications by September. These should be completed by March 1969, with actual construction to be completed no sooner than July, 1970.

Currently the authority is operating under a certificate calling for a system of primary treatment. For years the Health Department has worked to get primary treatment plants built along the rivers. Now, the second step in their long - range planning has been put into operation, with the order for secondary treatment measures.

ABOUT half the impurities—the solids—are removed under primary treatment. Under the secondary method, the fluid waste is treated further to remove additional impurities such as suspended or fine solids.

The health department is calling for removal of at least 85 percent of the organic pollution load. This is measured by a biochemical oxygen demand test.

There has been no discussion as to how the project will be financed. Presently, Midland collects no sewage tax from the residents.

Several smaller communities are concerned about getting funds for the secondary treatment. Officials hope by 1969 some state or federal grant will provide the funds.

CARSON, Calif. (AP) — The next time Raymond Lepage hears funny noises in his house at night he'll probably check them out himself.

Sheriff's deputies say he heard what he thought was a prowler early today. He grabbed his pistol—and handed it to his wife, Mary Jo, telling her to search the house.

She did, found nothing and headed back to the bedroom—just as Lepage decided to join the hunt.

Startled by the shadowy figure in the doorway, she fired. Lepage was slightly injured by the bullet which grazed his left cheek.

Court Coddles Criminals, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, pushing for Senate passage of a crime control bill that would supersede several controversial Supreme Court decisions, has accused the high court of coddling criminals.

The Arkansas Democrat said a majority of the court has taken it on itself to amend the Constitution and:

"We have to decide if we have the courage to do something about these self-confessed murderers and rapists that the Supreme Court is disposed to turn loose."

McClellan, in opening debate on the omnibus bill Wednesday, laid heavy emphasis on the section that would make confessions admissible as evidence in criminal trials if voluntarily given.

He called this a vital part of the legislation, but opponents hope to muster the votes to strike it from the bill.

In a 284-page Senate Judiciary Committee report on the bill, 7 of the 16 members joined in a statement protesting efforts to undo Supreme Court restrictions on the use of confessions or other self-incriminating statements.

They challenged the constitutionality of this part of the bill, saying "simplistic answers do us no service in the struggle to find solutions for the complicated problems we face in the war against crime."

McClellan, floor manager for the bill, argued the Supreme Court has imperiled public safety while providing greatly increased protection for criminals.

He referred particularly to the 1966 Miranda decision which barred use of confessions unless a suspect is given the right to have a lawyer with him while being questioned by police.

benefits for employees with six or more months of service.

Union and company negotiating teams in 17 cities worked through Wednesday night in hopes of ironing out final differences.

"We would like to wrap it up," said a spokesman for union President Joseph A. Beirne.

One hopeful note appeared when a Wednesday midnight deadline for nearly 10,000 Virginia telephone workers to join the strike was postponed on a day-to-day basis for up to three days.

Federal officials had privately expressed concern over the possible effects of a Virginia strike on crucial Defense Department telephone links at the Pentagon in suburban Arlington, Va.

Key strike negotiations in New York cover 23,000 telephone installers on strike in some 40 states. The installers, employed by the Bell Subsidiary Western Electric Co., traditionally lead the way in setting new contract patterns.

The reported six per cent wage agreement would raise average installers' pay from $3.27 to about $3.87 by the third year.

The strike also includes about 145,000 telephone operators, linemen, repairmen, clerks and other Bell System workers in 16 states and the District of Columbia, plus several thousand other workers represented by the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and several independent unions.

Highest exacta payoff during 1967 at the Yonkers Raceway meeting was $1,027.30 on Nov. 16. Seven and three were the numbers on the third race.

Carol Barnhouse Marries In Service At Columbiana

The First Christian Church of Columbiana was the scene of a candlelight ceremony Saturday evening when Miss Carol Jane Barnhouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnhouse of Rogers, became the bride of Air Force Lt. William G. Lommatzsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Lommatzsch of Boardman.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Charles W. Doughty, minister of the Lake Mount Church of Christ, assisted by Clarence Mansfield, pastor of the Columbiana Church. Mrs. Donald Zellers presented a half-hour recital of organ music. Mrs. James Bowers was soloist. White gladioli and pompons formed the altar background.

THE BRIDE was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of silk organza fashioned with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Alencon lace, encrusted with crystals, highlighted the Sabrina neckline and short sleeves and was used to accent the waistline skirt and Watteau train.

A queen's crown of seed pearls and crystals held her elbow-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of lilies, carnations and stephanotis. In observing the traditions, she carried a lace heirloom handkerchief, the gift of the bridegroom's mother.

Mrs. Kenneth Cox, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Debra Barnhouse, sister of the bride, Miss Carol Puscher and Mrs. Jerry Cross. They appeared in slipper-length gowns of pink chiffon designed with an Empire lace bodice and a floating redingote. Their two-tier eyelash veils were attached to matching clusters of roses and petals. They carried cascade arrangements of carnations and roses in varigated shades of pink.

Capt. Jerry C. Lommatzsch of San Antonio, Tex., served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Larry Barnhouse, brother of the bride, Kenneth Cox and Jerry Cross.

Ogilvie Named Winner In Merit Scholarships

Malcolm D. Ogilvie, a senior at East Liverpool High School, is among 2,800 Merit Scholarship winners announced today.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Ogilvie of Dairy Ln., he has been selected for a four - year scholarship financed by grants under the program.

The winners, announced by John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp., were chosen from among 14,000 finalists. All had scored in the top half of 1 per cent of graduating high school seniors in their states during Merit tests and have met other requirements.

The winners are chosen in open competition, state by state, by a committee of skilled evaluators, Stalnaker pointed out. Stipends range from $250 to $1,500 a year and from $1,000 to $6,000 over four years, depending on a student's need to attend the college of his choice, and may be adjusted whenever circumstances have changed significantly. The 400 National Merit Scholarships being awarded this year, Stalnaker added, are among 900 state - allocated awards in the 1967-68 program.

Columbia Trustees Study Basic Structure Changes

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University's board of trustees, meeting in special session on the campus crisis, agreed today to study basic changes in the university structure and to consult with community leaders on the fate of a controversial gymnasium in nearby Morningside Park.

The board took the action after conferring with a 12-member executive committee of the faculty named Tuesday and charged in a general faculty resolution with restoring order to the strife-torn Ivy League campus.

The action by the trustees, aimed at two key demands of the protesting students who have disrupted academic life for nine days, was coupled with a request that "all students and faculty resume their scholarly activities so that the presence of the police can be ended."

There was no immediate comment from leaders of the protest.

Columbia had called off classes in most of its branches again today after new fighting flared Wednesday between police and protesting students.

At least 11 persons, including five policemen, were injured when about 30 police charged a chanting, hostile crowd attending a rally by the university gate at Amsterdam Avenue and 116th Street. One student was arrested.

The clash marked the ninth day of disorders in the emotion-charged protest that has virtually paralyzed the university—a day which the administration had set aside for "reason and reflection" by all concerned.

The protest began with demands that the university halt construction of the gymnasium and sever its ties to the Institute for Defense Analysis. Excavation for the gym was suspended Friday at the suggestion of Mayor John V. Lindsay.

The chairman of the trustees announced appointment of a five-man committee "to study and recommend changes in the basic structure of the university."

Alan F. Westin, 38, professor of public law and government and a co-chairman of the faculty executive committee, said earlier that it was necessary to "redesign" Columbia.

Westin asserted that Columbia was "being run like a 17th or 18th century private university" with neither the faculty nor students having a "significant voice in decisions on larger issues."

'Extremely Strong' Support Seen For Humphrey In Ohio

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—There's "extremely strong support in Ohio" for Hubert H. Humphrey, Frazier Reams Jr., newly appointed state chairman for the vice president's Democratic presidential campaign, said Wednesday night.

Reams said he has talked to many persons throughout the state and "I'm very optimistic about the vice president carrying a large majority of the Ohio delegation" at the national convention.

The Toledo attorney, unsuccessful candidate for governor in 1966, was named Wednesday chairman of Humphrey's Ohio campaign by the national headquarters of United Democrats for Humphrey in Washington.

Reams said Humphrey got additional support Wednesday when Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, withdrew his previously announced support of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y., also a presidential candidate.

"Ohio is looking for mature leadership, and of the three candidates, Vice President Humphrey, through his experience, has demonstrated he has this type of leadership," Reams said.

In his statement in Washington, Young said, "Right now, I make it crystal clear I withdraw any statement or endorsement which I made heretofore. I hope that all of us have time to assess carefully and calmly the progress and abilities of the candidates for nomination and that our Ohio delegation will play an important and decisive part in the nomination of our standard bearer and in the adoption of a fine national platform."

Reams said a state headquarters for Humphrey will open soon in Columbus.

vantage of what already was there."

"I hope you will not just wait and have something happen," Palmer continued, pointing out that someone "must make something happen."

He said he spoke to some fine young people when he talked to an assembly at the high school yesterday afternoon. He said they were enthusiastic and interested, "and if you let them leave here then that's your biggest loss. It will cost you to keep them, but, if you lose them, it's going to cost you anyway."

"THIS GROUP here tonight is the heart throb of East Liverpool," Palmer declared, restating his belief in the need for the "Great Debate" here.

Earlier, Palmer outlined the changes happening in this country today, many nearly unknown by the greater part of the population.

"I have seen the computer that will allow the housewife to punch some buttons on Sunday and have all her work done for her during the remainder of the week."

"In El Centro, Calif., they are covering the sidewalks so they can air-condition them," he added. "Chemicals will control the aging process and give man another 50 years to live. Coal soon will be converted directly into food," Palmer explained.

"THERE ARE 26 new cities under construction in this country today," he declared. "The day of a New York is gone."

He said a study indicates the ideal city of the future will have between 50,000 and 150,000 residents.

Palmer summed up his talk as follows:

"Take time to work, it is the price of success,

Take time to think, it is the source of power,

Take time to play, it is the secret of youth,

Take time to read, it is the foundation of knowledge,

Take time to worship, it is the highway of reverence,

Take time to love, it is the one sacrament of life.

May the road come up to meet you,

May the wind always be at your back,

and may the good Lord take a likin' to you."

Palmer conducted two sales clinics yesterday.

SHAW, publisher of The Review, outlined the past year's accomplishments.

He listed 12 advances:

1.—A new post office is under construction, with the Chamber and Community Improvement Corp. greatly involved.

2.—The third extension of Route 11 was dedicated last September, the fourth is under construction, bids have been received for the fifth and the completion date still is set for 1971 for the Lake Erie-Ohio River Road.

3.—A county airport is about to be constructed near East Liverpool, and "a great deal of credit" goes to the Jaycees and the C.I.C.

4. — Industrial development has been tremendous.

5. — Plans for extension of the arterial highway through the East End has been revived.

6.—A new tourist brochure of the area, of which 25,000 copies have been produced, is being circulated.

7.—Action is expected soon on the paving of lower St. Clair Ave.

8.—A Pottery Festival, the city's first, is being planned for June.

9.—The program for total community development should be expedited with the recent appointment of Don Eckert, local businessman, as the city's planning coordinator.

10. — School construction amounting to nearly $10 million is nearly completed.

11. — A branch of Kent State University continues to flourish.

12.—Some old business, the Chester bridge, still remains before the community, but a solution is hoped for soon through the work of the Chamber's Highway Committee and the North Hancock County Development Organization.

RETIRING members of the board of trustees recognized were Arthur V. Doak, Don Eckert, William F. Porter, Richard B. Sant, John T. Smith and Judge Louis Tobin.

The Rev. Richard Wallarab, assistant pastor of Trinity United Presbyterian Church, offered the invocation.

Man Hospitalized After Spree Here

An East Liverpool resident is in City Hospital after he was charged Wednesday night with public intoxication, malicious destruction of property and loud and profane language.

He ripped the receiver from a public telephone in a downtown tavern, destroyed a sink and toilet in the city jail and then used "loud and profane language" within earshot of several nurses and a small child at the hospital.

Police arrested Leonard Husk, 34, of 164 Center St., about 6:30 p. m. in the Green Mill Tavern, after he allegedly ripped the receiver from a public phone at the Village Green Tavern at 529 Market St. Ralph Winters, owner of the Village Green, lodged the complaint.

Husk was placed in a cell at city jail and some time between 7 and 8 he destroyed the sink and toilet. He was charged with malicious destruction of property after the incident and about 11:15 was transported to the hospital. There, while awaiting treatment, Patrolmen David Huffman and William Copestick allege, he used profanity. He remains in "fair" condition today.

Judge Penalizes 9 Area Drivers

Nine speeders, the majority arrested on St. Clair Ave. by city police using radar, were penalized by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this morning.

Larry Underwood, of West Union, W. Va., charged with driving 45-miles-an-hour on the 35-zoned section of W. 8th St., was fined $10 and costs after pleading no contest.

Edwin Ward of East Liverpool RD 3 was fined $15 and costs for speeding 52-miles-an-hour on St. Clair Ave. yesterday.

James R. Tice of Calcutta forfeited $17.50 for speeding on St. Clair.

Robert Fogel of Sunnyside Trailer Park, East Liverpool RD 2, was fined $15 and costs for speeding on W. 8th St.

Walter Parsons of 471 Mulberry St., was fined $10 and costs and Hetty Brookes of Mount Acres Trailer Court, Calcutta, was fined $15 and costs for speeding.

Mary Pinkerton of 1018 St. Clair Ave. and Joe Clement Jr., forfeited $17.50 bond for speeding.

A hearing for Ronald Mackall of Rogers RD 1, who pleaded not guilty to speeding, was set for Monday at 9 a. m. by Judge Chertoff. He is charged with driving 55 miles an hour in the 35-mile-an-hour zone on St. Clair Ave. Wednesday.

College Dean Elected Head Of Student Body

GUNNISON, Colo. (AP) — "Since he has all the power we thought he might as well have the job," said one youth after Western State College students elected Olaf Kjoness, dean of students, as president of the student body.

The students mounted a write-in campaign after complaining they have little real power in college decision-making. Kjoness, who has been dean of students for more than 20 years, collected 87 per cent of the vote in balloting by about 1,000 of the school's 2,500 students.

Student candidates withdrew from the election Sunday. Kjoness said he expects the Student Council to declare the election null and void.

Duchess Pulls A Surprise

THESE SIX KITTENS were born recently to Duchess, a year-old Siamese cat at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DiMaggio of Midland. Duchess is a good mother, but she can't make up her mind where to keep her family.

Something new has been added to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DiMaggio of 815 Virginia Ave., Midland — in fact six new things!

Duchess, a year-old Siamese cat, owned by their daughter, Mrs. Joseph Kiesel of Bellvue, surprised them all when she gave birth to six kittens last week. Since it was her first litter, only two or four were expected.

Duchess is a Seal Point Siamese and was mated with a Blue Point. The kittens are pure white and it's too early to tell who they will look like.

The Kiesel's, who live in an apartment, brought Duchess to Midland for a visit and she was so happy in the yard, they decided to leave her.

Mrs. DiMaggio says Duchess is a very good mother, but can't decide where she wants the kittens. She is always moving them around. Mrs. DiMaggio says she never realized people were so interested in cats until the births. Now there is quite a bit of activity at the home.

If anyone would like to see the kittens, Mrs. DiMaggio says they may come to visit. They will be there for another few weeks.

Some Bitterly Oppose Kennedy

Top Businessmen Favor Nixon, Capital Paper Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's top businessmen overwhelmingly favor Richard M. Nixon for president—and a number bitterly oppose Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, according to a copyright Washington Post survey.

The newspaper said Nixon was favored by 91 of 160 leading executives surveyed. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was second with 38 votes and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey third with 24.

Kennedy was the choice of 3 executives, California Gov. Ronald Reagan of 2 and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and third party candidate George C. Wallace, 1 each.

The Post said a number of executives' comments showed "an edge of bitterness toward Kennedy"—saying the Democratic candidate was their last choice or they thought him least qualified.

Nearly three-fourths of the executives identified themselves as Republicans, the newspaper said. It said questionnaires were sent to 298 executives, including the entire membership of the prestigious Business Council, which has worked closely with President Johnson, and 180 responded.

Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who fared best in the poll, told a U.S. Chamber of Commerce luncheon Wednesday that some businessmen have even "out-liberaled Hubert Humphrey" and said their help is needed to solve slum problems.

In other political developments:

—Republican candidate Rockefeller takes a swing through Iowa today after calling his Massachusetts primary victory a surprise to him and urging de-Americanization of the Vietnam war.

—Kennedy, pressing his campaign in Indiana's May 7 presidential primary, said the administration should be more flexible on a site for tentative Vietnam peace talks. "We need not worry about whether we will lose face by agreeing to a site we have not suggested," he said in Lafayette.

—McCarthy, whose Democratic presidential campaign began as a protest to Vietnam policy, said in Louisville the issue should not be lost sight of. "This whole question hasn't been put to the people since New Hampshire," he said. "It ought to be again."

—California Gov. Ronald Reagan said in a position paper civil rights must be attained by "time, skill and resourcefulness and capital from all sectors," not "by shrill exaggerations or false promises and it will not be achieved through mob action or by the torch or the club."

—At least two Democratic meetings in Missouri for selecting county convention delegates were broken up by strongarm methods witnesses said were reminiscent of the Boss Tom Pendergast era "mob primaries." One McCarthy supporter was knocked down and another hit in the nose for protesting delegate selection methods.

LISBON — The annual Columbiana County junior high track meet for seventh- and eighth-graders from the four rural school districts will be held May 15 at the fairgrounds.

County fair directors, meeting Wednesday night at the secretary's office, gave the county Board of Education permission to use the grounds for the field day.

Fair directors also granted to the County Extension Service office permission to use the grounds one day in June for a 4-H saddle club training meeting.

Ben Weingart of Leetonia RD, president, was in charge. Directors discussed the insurance program and proposed repairs to the bandstand.

They said the 123rd annual exposition Aug. 21-25 again will open with youth day, with students to be admitted free.

Grandstand attractions on opening night will be the 4-H and Junior Fair parade at 7 and after that the "open to the world" horse-pulling contest for heavyweight and lightweight teams.

Battered But Still Locked

Safecrackers Fail In Bid At Ohio Hoist In Lisbon

LISBON — Safecrackers were all set to do business Wednesday night at the Ohio Hoist Mfg. Co., 321 S. Beaver St., only to find the cutting torch gas tank empty.

Louis Horvath of Boardman, president, found a battered but still - locked floor safe when he entered the main office shortly after 8 today.

The burglars got an undetermined amount of change from a soft drink machine. They found the key to the money compartment and left it in the lock after taking the coins.

Sheriff's deputies today continued their investigation into a safecracking Tuesday night at the Industrial Mining Co. offices five miles north of here.

Four men tied the night watchman and escaped with about $400 after burning and hammering open a two-door floor safe with the mining firm's tools.

Chief of Police Leon T. Zahrndt said the thugs got into Ohio Hoist by breaking a basement window on the south side of the building. He said one of the intruders must have been wearing a woolly jacket because he found "a lot of fuzz" on glass in the window frame.

There were no pry marks on the door from the basement to the first floor hallway, although Horvath said the door is usually locked. The intruders used a prybar to open a door from the hallway into a reception room and the door from the reception room into the main office.

The chief said the burglars dragged a torch and hose from the plant into the office. There were no signs the torch was used. Horvath told police workmen used all the gas in the tank yesterday and had not attached a new cylinder.

Police said the combination dial was damaged by heavy blows and there were prybar marks at the top of the door. "It was the work of amateurs," the chief said.

Sheriff's Deputy Richard Koffel said the Industrial Mining job "was not very neat."

Mayor Steve Suchanec reported eight complaints investigated by police, three arrests and five accidents during April. Officers patrolled 2,161 miles.

Bills totaling $2,526 were approved.

Firemen Called In Grass Blazes

SUMMITVILLE — Franklin Township volunteer firemen were called to extinguish two grass blazes Wednesday afternoon.

More than 10 acres of grass and brush on the Clyde Williamson property south of here were burning when the department received a call at 4:45 p.m., Fire Chief Forrest Young reported.

Young said the fire probably was started by a tossed cigarette.

Earlier that afternoon, firemen were called to railroad property near Manfill Lake, where another brush fire was raging.

The call was received at 2:40 p.m. Firemen reported about an acre of brush burned.

Bomb Damages Home Of Stark GOP Chairman

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The ranch-type home of Stark County Republican Chairman Carl F. Wise on the northeast outskirts of Canton was damaged by a bomb shortly before midnight Wednesday.

Sheriff George Papadopulos said the explosive, believed to be dynamite, was placed at the northeast corner of the house. Fragments were sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington for analysis, the sheriff said.

Wise's 13-year-old grandson, Carl F. Wise III, suffered a lacerated ear when hit by glass from a shattered window. He was released after treatment at Mercy Hospital.

Wise and his wife escaped injury.

Sheriff Papadopulos said Wise could offer no possible motive for the bombing, which shattered windows of the house and ripped a hole in the foundation.

Wise, former mayor of Canton, operates a real estate agency here.

Over 100 Arrested Wednesday

More Sit-Ins, Picketing Due At Cincinnati Schools

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ignoring threatened disciplinary action, pupils demonstrated at city high schools Wednesday for the second straight day. More sit-ins, plus picketing, were slated for today.

Nearly 120 persons, including two nonstudents, were arrested Wednesday in sit-ins at four high schools, held in protest of suspension and transfer of some pupils previously. Most of those arrested were Negroes.

About 900 parents and students met Wednesday night and decided to continue sit-ins, picket the Board of Education Building today and demonstrate at City Hall during several students' cases.

Persons were taken into custody at Woodrard, Aiken, Hughes and Courter Technical high schools Wednesday. Eighty-three were juveniles and were turned over to their parents pending hearings.

A total of 25 adults were arrested on charges of trespassing or committing an act contrary to health and morals. Bonds were set at $300 for most of them and in the majority of cases bonds were met.

At the meeting called by the Black Student Union and closed to the press, pupils voiced complaints and called for police to be moved out of schools where they had been sent to control demonstrations.

The pupils also said more Negro principals should be appointed and a Negro history week needed to be stressed.

One of the parents attending the meeting at Carmel Presbyterian Church in the predominantly Negro Avondale section, said picket signs will read, "Down with School Supt. Paul Miller and up with the students.

The group also agreed to convene again tonight to discuss the day's progress and consider further action.

About 400 students staged a peaceful march from school to school while several policemen were on hand to maintain order.

No violence was reported in any demonstration and classes went on as scheduled, although absenteeism was said to be high.

The marchers sang "we shall overcome" and other songs during their parade. Two students whose transfers and suspensions touched off the demonstrations the last two days headed the march.

Miller said Tuesday that more than 1,300 students who participated in sit-ins Tuesday at six high schools would be suspended.

The largest sit-in Wednesday was at Woodward, where about 200 students and others seated themselves in the main hallway before classes started.

Negro Bids For Nomination Saturday

North Carolina Primary Features Governor Race

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — The Negro candidate in a three-way race for North Carolina's Democratic nomination for governor needs a heavy Negro vote and considerable white votes to survive Saturday's primary election.

Yet, the candidacy of Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte, a dentist and minister, has virtually assured a runoff even if he places last in the voting.

Neither of Hawkins's opponents, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and Mel Broughton of Raleigh, is expected to get a majority of the votes and outright nomination.

On the Republican side, U.S. Rep. Jim Gardner, D-N.C., opposes Jack Stickley, a Charlotte businessman, for the gubernatorial nomination.

There will be no presidential ballot for the North Carolina voter Saturday and the campaign for governor has aroused little interest. Surveys have reported numerous undecided or apathetic voters.

State election officials predict about 800,000 Democrats and 250,000 Republicans will vote in the primary. The 1964 total vote included 769,090 Democrats and 63,815 Republicans.

The larger turnout is expected this year because of the increased number of candidates, particularly for legislative seats and district judgeships.

In his quest for support among white voters, Hawkins has advocated a tax on cigarettes and liberalization of the state's liquor laws. North Carolina is the only state that does not tax tobacco products and liquor-by-the-drink sales are prohibited.

Neither of his two opponents have courted the Negro vote and have made serious plays for the conservative vote. Both have strong "law and order" planks in their platform and have sought support of former associates of the segregationist and conservative wing of the state Democratic party.

The DOCTOR Says

By Dr. W. G. Brandstadt

Death Rates Higher In Rural Areas

Why are there more fatal accidents of all kinds in rural areas than in cities? There appear to be several reasons for this. One is that farming, lumbering and mining — occupations with special hazards of their own — are done in sparsely populated areas where adequate first - aid measures are not always available. You need not, however, pursue one of the occupations mentioned to be involved in a rural accident, as many a vacationer has found out.

Dr. Brandstadt

A RECENT study revealed that over 90 per cent of the persons who were injured in rural surroundings and who died within an hour of the accident died without having been moved to a hospital. Of those injured in cities, the corresponding figure was only 34 per cent. Many persons injured in rural areas between midnight and 6 a. m. were not discovered until several hours after their injury.

—:—

IN AN ANALYSIS of a series of deaths due to pesticides it was shown that most of them were caused by ignorance rather than carelessness. The manufacturer's labels have either given incomplete instructions regarding the safe handling of their product or have couched their warnings in technical terms many users do not understand.

—:—

IN THE MATTER of traffic accidents, little is accomplished by such admonitions as "Drive Safely" and "Don't Be a Statistic." Studies have shown that from 50 to 75 per cent of severe or fatal traffic accidents involved drinking drivers but, shown that of these over half were not merely social drinkers but persons who were chronic alcoholics.

—:—

MANY TRAFFIC deaths have been attributed to speed but we now know that the human body can survive accidents at high speed if it is adequately protected by safety belts, collapsible steering wheels and padded dashboards.

—:—

THERE REMAINS however, the toughest problem of all for persons injured in the country —ambulances equipped not only with the standard accessories but also with a crew of at least two well - trained attendants, one of whom could also be the driver. Small communities might have to subsidize such a service but the saving in lives would make it worth every cent of the cost.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

OSU, Ohio News Officials Rap Abuse Of Photographers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University School of Journalism and Ohio news officials deplored Wednesday "three flagrant instances of photographers being abused at Ohio State University as they covered the news" within the last few days.

"All three violations occurred at the hands of people who, while claiming that their rights are being denied, seek to deny the righst of the photographers and the right of the public to know what is happening in tax-supported institutions," said a statement released by Dr. William E. Hall, the statement said, film was taken from the photographers and exposed; in the third, a television station cameraman was ejected from a public building and beaten so badly he required hospital treatment.

Last Friday duing the seizure of the school's Administration Building by about 75 rebel students two photographers had film taken from them, Hall said.

The statement said that Jack Marsh of WTVN—TV, Columbus, was covering a public forum on "Racism and the Student Community" in a campus building Tuesday night when he was assaulted.

The statement was endorsed and signed by the journalism school faculty; Al Dopking, Columbus chief of bureau for the Associated Press; John Kady, Columbus bureau manager, United Press International; William Ware, executive editor, The Cleveland Plain Dealer; Brady Black, executive editor, The Cincinnati Enquirer; Edward P. Fallon, managing editor, The Toledo Blade; Sam Perdue, city editor, The Columbus Citizen - Journal; Richard A. Borel, president, WBNS, Columbus; Gene D'Angelo, general manager WTVN, Columbus; Hugh De Moss, news director WLWC-TV, Columbus, and Robert Endicott, Columbus correspondent for the Dayton Daily News.

Although it did not advance rapidly, technology made substantial progress in the middle ages. The windmill, wheelbarrow, window glass, candle and paved road were invented in the 12th century; spectacles and the ship's rudder appeared in the 13th; the grandfather clock was devised in the 14th.

Talks

Poland, both of which the U.S. government has rejected.

In Washington, a number of U.S. senators were urging the Johnson administration to accept Warsaw.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated he and other committee members told Undrsecretary of State Nicholas Kaltzenbach that the United States should lift its objections to the Polish capital as a site for talks.

Another committee member who asked not to be named said he's convinced the United States rejected Warsaw because of objections raised by the South Vietnamese.

Fulbright, asked if South Vietnamese objections are holding up talks, repled: "They are a major reason why we don't — both South Vietnam and South Korea — but especially South Vietnam."

Katzenbach briefed the committee in closed session Wednesday. A majority of the committee has long criticized U.S. war policy.

Fulbright said he favored the Wednesday offer by Indonesia to provide a ship on which the talks could be held in the international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin.

But he expressed skepticism Hanoi would go along—a view also voiced privately by diplomats in Washington.

Although the White House embraced the proposal with a show of eagerness, these diplomats noted Hanoi already was rejected Jakarta, the capital of Indonesia, as a possible site.

Another reason for their negative view was that the North Vietnamese reportedly told Indonesia recently they still prefer Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw for the proposed talks.

Foreign Minister Adam Malik of Indonesia disclosed in Jakarta that he had offered to send a cruiser to the Gulf of Tonkin. He said the offer had been put before both North Vietnam and the United States.

Within two hours after Malik's disclosure reached Washington a White House spokesman said the proposal was acceptable, adding: "A neutral ship on a neutral sea would be a good meeting place."

South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do later said Indonesia's proposal also is acceptable to his government.

Although the Gulf of Tonkin comprises international waters as well as the territorial seas of North Vietnam and Communist China, it is dominated by U.S. Navy ships which patrol it and which launch carrier-based planes to attack enemy positions in Vietnam.

Over 100 Arrested Wednesday

More Sit-Ins, Picketing Due At Cincinnati Schools

CINCINNATI (AP)—Ignoring threatened disciplinary action, pupils demonstrated at city high schools Wednesday for the second straight day. More sit-ins, plus picketing, were slated for today.

Nearly 120 persons, including two nonstudents, were arrested Wednesday in sit-ins at four high schools, held in protest of suspension and transfer of some pupils previously. Most of those arrested were Negroes.

About 900 parents and students met Wednesday night and decided to continue sit-ins, picket the Board of Education Building today and demonstrate at City Hall during several students' cases.

Persons were taken into custody at Woodrard, Aiken, Hughes and Courter Technical high schools Wednesday. Eighty-three were juveniles and were turned over to their parents pending hearings.

A total of 25 adults were arrested on charges of trespassing or committing an act contrary to health and morals. Bonds were set at $300 for most of them and in the majority of cases bonds were met.

At the meeting called by the Black Student Union and closed to the press, pupils voiced complaints and called for police to be moved out of schools where they had been sent to control demonstrations.

The pupils also said more Negro principals should be appointed and a Negro history week needed to be stressed.

One of the parents attending the meeting at Carmel Presbyterian Church in the predominantly Negro Avondale section, said picket signs will read, "Down with School Supt. Paul Miller and up with the students.

The group also agreed to convene again tonight to discuss the day's progress and consider further action.

About 400 students staged a peaceful march from school to school while several policemen were on hand to maintain order.

No violence was reported in any demonstration and classes went on as scheduled, although absenteeism was said to be high.

The marchers sang "we shall overcome" and other songs during their parade. Two students whose transfers and suspensions touched off the demonstrations the last two days headed the march.

Miller said Tuesday that more than 1,300 students who participated in sit-ins Tuesday at six high schools would be suspended.

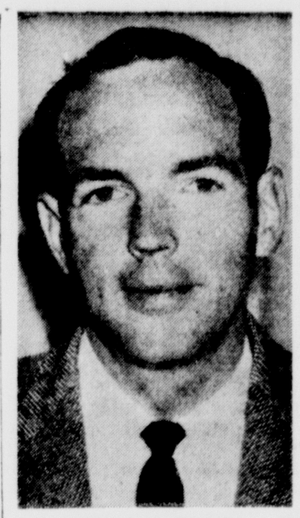

The largest sit-in Wednesday was at Woodward, where about 200 students and others seated themselves in the main hallway before classes started.

Nelson Launches Varied Duties As Scout Excutive

Phillip H. Nelson, 26, of Columbiana has begun his duties as Cherokee Boy Scout District executive, a post vacant since September 1967 when Harry Lessly accepted a scouting position at Charleston.

Nelson, who resides with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Nelson of N. Main St., Columbiana, is a 1959 graduate of Columbiana High School.

He majored in business administration at Baldwin-Wallace College, and was an insurance salesman for some time.

Active in Scouting since 9 years old, he was a Cub, Scout and Explorer, and earned the Eagle Scout rank. Bennett Taylor, Columbiana Boy Scout Council executive, said Nelson has been serving as a neighborhood commissioner.

Chester Firemen Order Equipment

Purchase of fire coats and other equipment for some members was authorized at a meeting of the Chester volunteer fire department Wednesday night at the station.

Nineteen attended the session at which Richard Manypenny was placed on a waiting list for membership. The membership is limited to 24.

Don Reed, chairman of a rummage sale being sponsored this week at the Ewing Building, said the sale progress was good. A report was given on the recent Hancock County Firemen's Association meeting held at Chester.

Plans were advanced for the annual fair late in July. Fire Chief Alton Johnson presided. The next meeting will be June 5.

North Carolina Primary Features Governor Race

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — The Negro candidate in a three-way race for North Carolina's Democratic nomination for governor needs a heavy Negro vote and considerable white votes to survive Saturday's primary election.

Yet, the candidacy of Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte, a dentist and minister, has virtually assured a runoff even if he places last in the voting.

Neither of Hawkins's opponents, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and Mel Broughton of Raleigh, is expected to get a majority of the votes and outright nomination.

On the Republican side, U.S. Rep. Jim Gardner, D-N.C., opposes Jack Stickley, a Charlotte businessman, for the gubernatorial nomination.

There will be no presidential ballot for the North Carolina voter Saturday and the campaign for governor has aroused little interest. Surveys have reported numerous undecided or apathetic voters.

State election officials predict about 800,000 Democrats and 250,000 Republicans will vote in the primary. The 1964 total vote included 769,090 Democrats and 63,815 Republicans.

The larger turnout is expected this year because of the increased number of candidates, particularly for legislative seats and district judgeships.

In his quest for support among white voters, Hawkins has advocated a tax on cigarettes and liberalization of the state's liquor laws. North Carolina is the only state that does not tax tobacco products and liquor-by-the-drink sales are prohibited.

Neither of his two opponents have courted the Negro vote and have made serious plays for the conservative vote. Both have strong "law and order" planks in their platform and have sought support of former associates of the segregationist and conservative wing of the state Democratic party.

Death Rates Higher In Rural Areas

Why are there more fatal accidents of all kinds in rural areas than in cities? There appear to be several reasons for this. One is that farming, lumbering and mining — occupations with special hazards of their own — are done in sparsely populated areas where adequate first - aid measures are not always available. You need not, however, pursue one of the occupations mentioned to be involved in a rural accident, as many a vacationer has found out.

A RECENT study revealed that over 90 per cent of the persons who were injured in rural surroundings and who died within an hour of the accident died without having been moved to a hospital. Of those injured in cities, the corresponding figure was only 34 per cent. Many persons injured in rural areas between midnight and 6 a. m. were not discovered until several hours after their injury.

—:—

IN AN ANALYSIS of a series of deaths due to pesticides it was shown that most of them were caused by ignorance rather than carelessness. The manufacturer's labels have either given incomplete instructions regarding the safe handling of their product or have couched their warnings in technical terms many users do not understand.

—:—

IN THE MATTER of traffic accidents, little is accomplished by such admonitions as "Drive Safely" and "Don't Be a Statistic." Studies have shown that from 50 to 75 per cent of severe or fatal traffic accidents involved drinking drivers but, shown that of these over half were not merely social drinkers but persons who were chronic alcoholics.

—:—

MANY TRAFFIC deaths have been attributed to speed but we now know that the human body can survive accidents at high speed if it is adequately protected by safety belts, collapsible steering wheels and padded dashboards.

—:—

THERE REMAINS however, the toughest problem of all for persons injured in the country —ambulances equipped not only with the standard accessories but also with a crew of at least two well - trained attendants, one of whom could also be the driver. Small communities might have to subsidize such a service but the saving in lives would make it worth every cent of the cost.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Poland, both of which the U.S. government has rejected.

In Washington, a number of U.S. senators were urging the Johnson administration to accept Warsaw.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated he and other committee members told Undrsecretary of State Nicholas Kaltzenbach that the United States should lift its objections to the Polish capital as a site for talks.

Another committee member who asked not to be named said he's convinced the United States rejected Warsaw because of objections raised by the South Vietnamese.

Fulbright, asked if South Vietnamese objections are holding up talks, repled: "They are a major reason why we don't — both South Vietnam and South Korea — but especially South Vietnam."

Katzenbach briefed the committee in closed session Wednesday. A majority of the committee has long criticized U.S. war policy.

Fulbright said he favored the Wednesday offer by Indonesia to provide a ship on which the talks could be held in the international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin.

But he expressed skepticism Hanoi would go along—a view also voiced privately by diplomats in Washington.

Although the White House embraced the proposal with a show of eagerness, these diplomats noted Hanoi already was rejected Jakarta, the capital of Indonesia, as a possible site.

Another reason for their negative view was that the North Vietnamese reportedly told Indonesia recently they still prefer Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw for the proposed talks.

Foreign Minister Adam Malik of Indonesia disclosed in Jakarta that he had offered to send a cruiser to the Gulf of Tonkin. He said the offer had been put before both North Vietnam and the United States.

Within two hours after Malik's disclosure reached Washington a White House spokesman said the proposal was acceptable, adding: "A neutral ship on a neutral sea would be a good meeting place."

South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do later said Indonesia's proposal also is acceptable to his government.

Although the Gulf of Tonkin comprises international waters as well as the territorial seas of North Vietnam and Communist China, it is dominated by U.S. Navy ships which patrol it and which launch carrier-based planes to attack enemy positions in Vietnam.

Extension Home Economics Advisory Committee Set Up

LISBON — Eight representatives of Columbiana County groups and agencies met at the county extension office Wednesday afternoon to organize an extension home economics advisory committee.

Paul Gipp, county extension agent for agriculture, and Mrs. Ann Riedel, home economics agent, outlined services available through the extension service of Ohio State University.

The purpose of the committee is to analyze problems faced by county families, determine which are the most serious and advise on the areas to which the extension program can make an educational contribution.

Committee members yesterday discussed family problems and gave priority to money management, communications between family members and young homemakers' education.

Committee members follow by organizations and agencies they represent:

Harris, 878 State St., and Miss Mildred Rose, 1322 Riverview St.; Public Health Nurses Association — Mrs. Ruth Kauffman of Lisbon, County Health Department nurse; County Farm Bureau — Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of Beloit RD 2, organization director.

OSU, Ohio News Officials Rap Abuse Of Photographers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State University School of Journalism and Ohio news officials deplored Wednesday "three flagrant instances of photographers being abused at Ohio State University as they covered the news" within the last few days.

"All three violations occurred at the hands of people who, while claiming that their rights are being denied, seek to deny the righst of the photographers and the right of the public to know what is happening in tax-supported institutions," said a statement released by Dr. William E. Hall, the statement said, film was taken from the photographers and exposed; in the third, a television station cameraman was ejected from a public building and beaten so badly he required hospital treatment.

Last Friday duing the seizure of the school's Administration Building by about 75 rebel students two photographers had film taken from them, Hall said.

The statement said that Jack Marsh of WTVN—TV, Columbus, was covering a public forum on "Racism and the Student Community" in a campus building Tuesday night when he was assaulted.

The statement was endorsed and signed by the journalism school faculty; Al Dopking, Columbus chief of bureau for the Associated Press; John Kady, Columbus bureau manager, United Press International; William Ware, executive editor, The Cleveland Plain Dealer; Brady Black, executive editor, The Cincinnati Enquirer; Edward P. Fallon, managing editor, The Toledo Blade; Sam Perdue, city editor, The Columbus Citizen - Journal; Richard A. Borel, president, WBNS, Columbus; Gene D'Angelo, general manager WTVN, Columbus; Hugh De Moss, news director WLWC-TV, Columbus, and Robert Endicott, Columbus correspondent for the Dayton Daily News.

Although it did not advance rapidly, technology made substantial progress in the middle ages. The windmill, wheelbarrow, window glass, candle and paved road were invented in the 12th century; spectacles and the ship's rudder appeared in the 13th; the grandfather clock was devised in the 14th.

Junk Car Removal Drive Starts

The Hancock County "Junk Car Removal Campaign" is now under way, with the first pickup made at the Elmer Keller residence in Newell.

Mrs. Keller, center, presents a signed application form to Tony Eureka of the Eureka Car Wrecking Co. of Kings Creek, authorizing the pickup of a junked auto on their property.

At the left is Mrs. Charles Mills, president of the County Homemakers Council, which is cooperating in the drive to remove unsightly junked vehicles from along streets and roads.

Eureka estimates there are some 4,000 such autos over the county.

Owners of junked autos wishing free removal may obtain application forms from Oliver Johnson, chairman of the Hancock County drive, at the Extension Office in New Cumberland or from the Eureka company.

Owners have the choice of delivering the car to the firm or it will be picked up. If the car is delivered and has a used parts value, the owner will be compensated. Any wrecked or rusted car made prior to 1960 is seldom worth the cost of repair, it was pointed out.

Barr Will Meet With Realtor On Hotel Operation

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mayor Joseph M. Barr says he'll meet Friday with a New York real estate operator and ask him to continue to operate the Penn-Sheraton building as a hotel.

The mayor's request came Wednesday after he learned that efforts by a Pittsburgh group to purchase the hotel had fallen through.

Attorney Alan H. Berkman, representing the Pittsburgh businessmen in talks with the Sheraton Corp., said Wednesday the group was unable to close the deal by 5 p.m. Wednesday.

The Sheraton Corp. had set that deadline for the Pittsburghers to work out contract problems with members of Local 237 of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Alliance. A strike by the workers closed the hotel last October.

Barr arranged for the meeting with New York real estate operator Arthur Cohen to ask him to continue to use the building as a hotel until a new one can be built in the city.

The Penn-Sheraton is the largest Eastern hotel between New York and Chicago. The 1,600-room structure employed 700 persons.

Firemen Will Get Further Training

SUMMITVILLE — Franklin Township volunteer firemen will receive additional training this summer.

Glen Gueff of Mechanicstown, who will be instructor, told the eight members at Wednesday night's meeting that the 36-hour course is scheduled to begin July 10.

Other community residents desiring to attend the classes should contact Fire Chief Forrest Young.

A cleanup of the fire hall in preparation for the homecoming in June followed the meeting.

Toronto Area Driver Fined On 3 Charges

A Toronto area man was fined $82.50 for three traffic charges lodged against him by the Ohio Highway Patrol in Municipal Court this morning.

Judge Samuel Chertoff fined Hayward Tully, 21, of Toronto RD 2 $25 and costs for reckless driving, $10 and costs for a loud muffler and $25 and costs for fleeing from an officer.

Tully pleaded guilty.

Donald Riding of 108 Risch Ave., Butler, Pa., paid $15 and costs in court today for operating on the River Rd. with a load of oil which leaked onto the highway.

There will be no court Friday since the judge will be attending a seminar in Cleveland.

300 Welcome Home Millers During Trinity U.P. Service

More than 300 members and guests of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church welcomed the Rev. and Mrs. M. Rudolph Miller of Molokai, Hawaii, who presented the prayer service program Wednesday night in Hilbert Hall.

The former minister and his wife are on furlough after 15 months work in the leper colony of Kakaupapa. Mrs. Miller was attired in a long, native Hawaiian party dress.

Rev. Miller discussed his ministry at the Kanaana Hou Church.

Slides were screened of the church, administration building, hospital, members of the leper colony and the flowers of the garden paradise.

Recorded music featured Hawaiian chants of the early missionary days to the present, along with tapes of the island church choir.

The Rev. H. Gene Toot conducted devotions.

Speaking on behalf of the Dia Konia Class, of which Mrs. Miller was a member, Mrs. James Fortiner presented the couple with a monetary gift, received as the class Lenten offering for mission work.

A reception followed under the supervision of the Dia Konia Class, with Mrs. William E. Kaiser, president, assisted by Mrs. Stanley Rose, Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. Theda Campbell and Mrs. Reid Calcott.

The buffet table was covered with a pink cloth and centered with a bouquet of tulips, lilacs, jonquils and apple blossoms arranged by Mrs. Homer Huston. Purple tapers in brass holders completed the setting.

Mrs. Toot and Mrs. Evans poured at the punch bowls and Mrs. Arlie Woomer at the silver coffee service.

A large arrangement of anthurium was featured on another table. The native island flowers were brought by the Millers.

Rev. and Mrs. Miller, the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wellington of Avondale St., will remain here until Tuesday.

2 Cars Collide, Auto Hits Meter

Two autos were involved in a collision at Broadway and 5th Sts. about 7:25 Wednesday night.

A car operated by Lois Eunis Backus, 65, of 307 Persimmon Ln. was struck from behind by another driven by Anthony Joseph Yanni, 24, of 309 Vine St. as the Backus auto was stopped for a traffic signal.

About 5:38 p.m. yesterday an auto driven by Roberta J. Fickle, 24, of the U.S. Naval Station at New York struck a parking meter post after brakes on the car, owned by John A. Fickle of Homewood Dr., failed while descending St. Clair Ave.

The woman told police she was unable to stop, turned onto St. Clair then into the parking space in an effort to halt the auto. The car struck the post, but did not damage the meter officers reported.

ture in which his legislative program is bottled up.

Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh said Wednesday that the governor "just doesn't know what's going on in this state even with his own program."

"The governor has clearly indicated that he would like to be on the national ticket," Unruh declared. He said Reagan is being used by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to prevent former Vice President Richard M. Nixon from going to Miami Beach with the nomination secured.

"I'm not collaborating with anyone," Reagan shot back.

Charles Hodges, Prominent W.Va. Figure, Claimed

Hodges died in a local hospital Wednesday at the age of 75. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

He was serving as a consultant with the U.S. Department of Commerce at the time of his death. He retired in 1964 as managing director of the Charleston Chamber of Commerce, a post he held for 26 years.

Before that he served for eight years as the state senator from Monongalia County, was senate president for two sessions, and in 1936 was an unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor.

He leaves a widow, the former Florence Kirtland Conant; two daughters, Mrs. Mathew Harrison Jr. of Lancaster, Pa., and Mrs. Louis F. Theiling Jr. of Charleston; a son, Charles E. Hodges II of New Orleans, La., and a sister, Mrs. O. F. Gibbs of Fort Myers, Fla.

Defies Arabs, U.N. Resolution

Israel Parades Military Might In Jerusalem Area

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel defied its Arab neighbors and a U.N. Security Council resolution today by parading its military might through the Arab sector of Jerusalem to celebrate 20 years of nationhood.

Demonstrations of protest were scheduled for several Arab capitals and a proposal to condemn Israel for holding the parade was expected in the Security Council. Israel rejected a unanimous council resolution saying the parade should be canceled because it would hurt chances for peace in the Middle East.

Braving sweltering heat, thousands of joyous Israelis and foreign visitors lined every foot of the five-mile parade route through both Arab and Jewish sections of the once-divided city which Israel united in the war last June.

Arab residents of Jerusalem kept their homes and shops shuttered.

Soldiers and police stood guard all along the route, keeping a watchful lookout for trouble from clandestine Arab groups that ordered a boycott of the parade. Visitors were checked at roadblocks on all roads leading into the city.

Along with an impressive show of their own weaponry the Israelis paraded Soviet tanks, self-propelled artillery, surface-to-air missiles, and other equipment captured from the Arabs in the six-day war last June.

Male and female soldiers marched past the reviewing stand and saluted Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, President Zalman Shazar and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan.

It all commemorated the 20 turbulent years since bushy-haired David Ben-Gurion, as head of the provisional government, stood up in Tel Aviv's Museum of Modern Art and proclaimed Israel an independent state.

Over the years the determined Israelis turned a desert wasteland into fertile agricultural fields, tapped water from hidden springs and mountain rivers and built up the economy to give themselves the highest standard of living in the Middle East.

Outside of failing to secure a permanent peace for their land, the Israelis' biggest disappointment has been the sparse immigration of Western Jews, particularly Americans. Even the volunteers who came during the June war are streaming out now, unused to the frontier hardship, low wages and stern discipline.

Franko Loses Appeal To Ohio High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A former Youngstows mayor, Frank R. Franko, lost an appeal to the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday to have a 1958 suspension from the practice of law lifted.

The court refused to review the case. It had imposed the suspension following alleged favoritism by Franko in traffic cases while serving as a municipal judge.

drew, Branigin became a favorite son candidate.

He argued that a Hoosier, not "a foreigner, an outlander, a tourist," should have control of Indiana's 63 votes in the Democratic National Convention.

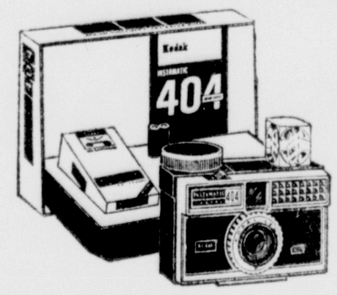

Indiana law binds delegates to the primary winner on the first ballot. They can make their own course after the first ballot.

Branigin and his backers have hammered hard at the blitzkrieg aspects of the Kennedy and McCarthy campaigns, saying the senators are trying to buy the presidency.

Larry Bruno To Get Award From Geneva

Larry Bruno, a former athlete at East Liverpool High School and now football coach at Beaver Falls High School, is among six Geneva College graduates who will receive the Distinguished Service Award during the annual Alumni Day dinner Saturday at 6 p. m.

The exercises will be held in Metheny Fieldhouse at the Beaver Falls institution.

Bruno, who will be entering his 20th grid season (ninth as coach at BFHS) was one of the leading football scorers in the state of Pennsylvania while playing at Geneva during his senior year in 1946. Following that season, he played with the East in the annual Shrine game at San Francisco.

He gave up an opportunity to play professionally to accept a coaching position at Monaca High School, where in 1947 he became assistant coach in football and basketball. The next year he took over as head football, basketball and track coach plus athletic director. He gave up the cage sport following the 1957 season.

Bruno, a popular football clinic speaker, in the summer of 1966 was invited as one of two high school coaches in the national sports clinic in Los Angeles.

More than 90 youths coached by Bruno have received athletic scholarships. Among this number 15 currently are coaching and 25 are in the teaching profession.

Mrs. Bruno is the former Virginia Louise Winters of East Liverpool. They have a son Larry and a daughter Valerie.

7 Ohioans Get Hero Medals

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Seven Ohioans were on the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission's list for awards announced today.

Forrest E. Brock Sr., 42, South Vienna, will receive a bronze medal and $750 in cash. A truck driver, Brock is credited with saving an undetermined number of persons from an impending explosion in Washington Court House Jan. 20, 1966.

The commission citation said he risked his life to turn off a gas pump valve when a boy tossed a match while gas was being pumped into tanks, igniting fumes and starting a fire.

Firemen soon controlled the blaze, after Brock turned off the valve.

Ernest Thomas Zogaib, 39, Toledo, a railroad tower operator, will receive a bronze medal and $750. He was cited for saving Terry R. Northrop, 25, and attempting to save Johannes W. Northrop, 47, from burning at Waldbridge April 23, 1967.

A small airplane piloted by the elder Northrop crashed just after takeoff. Northrop and his son were trapped in the cabin. Zogaib arrived as flames broke out on the engine and wings and removed Terry from the plane but failed in efforts to save the father.

Terry A. Laughlin of Alliance will receive a bronze medal and $500. Terry, 15, a schoolgirl, helped save Malcolm P. Carr, 23, from drowning at Deerfield June 5, 1967. She swam 175 feet to Carr, and towed the unconscious man toward a bank where she got help from two other girls.

Richard Alva Beatty, 44, and Grover Curtis Bainter, 42, of Lancaster; Lester O. Spires, 57, and Harvey L. Seitz, 37, both of Ashville, will receive bronze medals and cash awards for their rescue of two Air Force officers at Ashville Feb. 1, 1967. The officers' plane crashed and was burning when the four men rescued them from the flames. One of the officers died later.

ANN LANDERS

Medical Mistakes Aired

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I just finished the column in which you staunchly defend the medical profession.

The reader cites a number of instances involving members of her own family where doctors goofed and you very politely tell her that no human is infallible and that, unfortunately, when a physician makes a mistake somebody becomes terribly ill or dies.

This is advice?

I'm enclosing in my letter to you a clipping from the London Sunday Times. It reports one of the most interesting errors of all time. A surgeon in Birmingham, England, amputated the wrong leg.

I agree with you, Ann, that no human is infallible and I can understand certain kinds of "mistakes" but THIS is ridiculous. Have you the courage and decency to print my letter? I shall watch the paper with great interest. — SAN JOSE READER.

Dear Jose: Thank you for your letter and for the clipping. Outrageous mistake? Unquestionably so. But the comments of the 75-year-old widow who is not legless were far more deserving of notice than the doctor's mistake.

She said, "Whoever it was who made the operating error probably saved hundreds of lives before he got to me. I happened to be the unlucky one. But, as I told them at the time, we all make mistakes and I'm not going to have one word said against him."

What a sterling example of true charity! That this woman was able not only to forgive, but to defend the man demonstrates mercy in its best sense.

Thank you for sending the clipping. It contained something of value for all of us.

Tootin' Kooks

Dear Ann: Do you have anything in your files on blasted horn blasters? I refer to addle-brained mothers who have the car pool for the week and rush around picking up the kids in the neighborhood.

They start to toot the horn the minute they turn the corner, even though the kid lives at the end of the block.

I am a grouchy old bag because I resent being honked out of bed at 7:30 a.m.? What about the people who are ill, or work night shifts and don't need to get up until noon? Aren't they entitled to their rest?

The whole thing boils down to decent manners. How can parents expect their children to be polite when THEY go around behaving in such a rude, inconsiderate fashion?

And please don't say these folks should be arrested for disturbing the peace. Why should it be up to the law to teach manners? I feel that YOU, Ann, are the gal who can do it. Please try.—HONK WARY.

Dear Honk: You vastly overrate the power of this woman. But here's your letter and my added plea: Give the later risers a break, girls. Some people don't have to get up at the crack of dawn. Let 'em sleep, will ya'?

Confidentially

TO The Fencer Sitter: The man has all the qualities of a dog — except loyalty. Give him a Methodist handshake and send him on his way.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Curtain Cleaning Ideas

DEAR FRIENDS: Your response in helping us solve the problem of laundering polished cotton curtains successfully was tremendous. You're all great.

Heloise

Here are several of the most popular ways that were sent in which have been used with good results (I added a few comments):

"Add a little borax to the water in which sateen (polished cotton) is washed, then iron the fabric on the wrong side and the material will keep its gloss."

"Dip washed curtains into a thin (very light) solution of clear, HOT cooked starch to which a small amount of wax (about the size of a walnut) has been added. Use paraffin or white candle wax and stir starch thoroughly until all wax is dissolved. Iron curtains while damp on right side." (This worked great for me.)

"Use the wash and wear cycle of washing machine. After the rinse water has run into washer, add one cup of liquid starch (the kind that comes already to use and is blued). Iron with a hot iron BEFORE completely dry."

"Dissolve one package of plain gelatin in the final rinse water." (This was excellent, too.)

"To wash polished cotton, save the water that rice has been boiled in. Add a small amount of glycerine to the mixture and use for the last rise. For white polished cotton, substitute a tiny amount of blueing for the glycerine." (The Chinese use this method.)

Everyone seems to agree that polished cotton should be washed in COOL water and ironed while damp.

So, gals, those of you who have beautiful polished cotton curtains and bedspreads, the next time you launder them, try one of the above methods which our good friends have used successfully when doing theirs.

Bless you all. And last, but surely the MOST important is: DON'T USE BLEACH or anything with bleach in it when washing polished cotton or sateen. Perhaps that's the way lots of them were ruined. A chemist told me this years ago. True, too. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I wonder how many ladies who have no dishwashers use my method for drying glasses and cups? Especially after lots of company.

I heat my oven to 200 degrees. Wash and rinse the cups and glasses. Then turn OFF the oven and place cups on the bottom oven grate, glasses on the other one.

The heat will dry them all perfectly.

Sure saves lots of work. Not only saves drying them but quite sanitary, too. GRANDMA.

Two hundred degrees is NOT a hot oven, gals. Unless the oven thermostat isn't working.

Grannie has a terrific idea here. Besides gettisg all those dishes out of the way and hidden until you get the urge to put 'em back where they belong. HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint I hope will be of help to mothers.

When I first put our little daughter into a youth bed which didn't have sides on it, she had a few falls in the night.

So I blew up an air mattress and placed it on the floor beside her bed. Now if she falls out, it doesn't hurt her.

In the mornings when I make up her bed, instead of deflating the mattress, I just shove it under the bed. It's out of sight until I am ready to use it again. Sure solved my problem. LOIS PALKOVIC.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a hint which helped me with flower arrangements in vases made from plastic squeeze containers.

I punched several holes in the sides about an inch from the top, after having cut the container to the proper height.

Then a few extra flowers can be stuck through these holes. It helps to hold the other flowers in place as well as making the arrangement more attractive.

Just see that the stems go down enough to reach the water. MILLIE J.

Claimed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Spec. 4 George E. Jacobs of Cleveland and Navy Hospitalman Dennis N. Johnston of McDonald, Ohio, have died in Vietnam. The Defense Department said Jacobs was killed in action and Johnston, previously listed as missing, had died of hostile causes.

Poor March Launched To Mississippi

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes are starting the Poor People's March on Washington, envisioned by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as a means of dramatizing the plight of the poor of all races.

As a final preliminary before departure of a bus caravan to Marks, Miss. today, a marble stone bearing a cross and a star is being dedicated here in memory of the slain civil rights leader.

King's widow and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, the man who succeeded King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, take part in dedication of the stone, to be placed on the second floor balcony of the Lorraine Motel where King was standing when killed by a sniper April 4.

Then Abernathy leads the first contingent of the Poor People's Campaign on a twisting two-mile route through some of Memphis' worst slums to buses chartered for the trip to Marks.

Both Mrs. King and Abernathy addressed a kickoff rally of about 8,000 Wednesday night and pleaded for a large turnout for both the dedication and the trip to Marks, the town termed by King as the nation's worst rural poverty area.

A brief outbreak of violence flared in Marks Wednesday when about 20 Mississippi highway patrolmen used rifle butts to break up a demonstration by Negro high school pupils outside the Quitman County jail.

Deputy Jack Harrison said about 350 students had started a sit-in to protest the arrest of Willie Bolden, an advance organizer for SCLC.

By the time the trouble had subsided, seven of the SCLC organizers were in jail.

The memorial stone, a 4-foot-by-44-inch slab of white marble weighing 250 pounds, is on a pedestal for the ceremony.

Below a star and cross were King's name, birth date, date of death and his title in SCLC. Then was engraved this inscription from the 37th chapter of Genesis:

"They said one to another, behold, here cometh the dreamer.

"Let us slay him. We shall see what becomes of his dream."

King came to Memphis to plan another march in support of striking city sanitation workers when he was killed. He led a previous march which erupted into a flurry of window breaking and looting and had been scheduled a mass meeting the night he was slain.

Line Projects Approved By Chester Water Board

Lowering of a standpipe at the Chester water reservoir and replacement of a 4-inch pipe at W. Carolina Ave. was approved Wednesday night by the Chester Water Board at the request of two industries for improved water volume.

Representatives of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. and Metsch Refractories met with the board to discuss the water situation.

Fred Beadle, manager of the Metsch concern on W. Carolina Ave., explained the firm's need for additional water pressure at the plant. A rating survey, he said, indicated there is insufficient pressure for safety standards for fire protection.

He said further it has become difficult to get proper insurance coverage due to this condition. A proposal for the cleaning of a 6-inch main from 1st St. along W. Carolina Ave. to the plant was outlined.

The board agreed to replace a 4-inch line leading from the main to a fire hydrant in front of the plant to determine if the smaller line is responsible for the lowered pressure. If this is not the case, it was explained, the board will consider cleaning of the larger main.

Stan Hilbert of the Hilbert Agency attended, and Dale Allison, Chester agent, explained the rating system. He said homes west of the Cunningham's Run along W. Carolina Ave. have a higher insurance classification than the rest of the city, and if the water pressure situation is improved, the rating would be the same for that part of the city.

Ed Morse of the TST pottery outlined the need for additional water volume at his plant, and it was suggested a standpipe at the reservoir be submerged to increase the volume.

The project, estimated to cost about $200, will require the standpipe be lowered five feet, and a crane utilized to remove the section.

In other action, the board approved requests for service at the site of a building project of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church adjacent to the church.

It was announced shutoff notices have been sent to some 30 delinquent customers owing $1,900, with the shutoffs to begin May 15.

The next meeting will be June 5.

17-Year Locust Tips To Be Given

LISBON — A state expert on insects will speak next Wednesday in Salem and Lisbon to prepare agriculturists, gardeners and home owners for the arrival of the 17-year locust.

Dr. Howard Forsythe will give an illustrated talk at 1 p.m. in Room 201 at the Memorial Building in Salem and at 8 p.m. in Lisbon Village Hall. He is an Ohio State University extension entomologist at the Agricultural Research and Development Center in Wooster.

Akron, Canton Vote Tuesday On Income Tax Plan

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Voters in two of Ohio's eight largest cities—Akron and its neighbor, Canton—will be asked in next Tuesday's primary election to approve city income tax proposals.

In both places the tax proposals must be approved to keep city government on sound financial footing, officials say. And in both places pre-balloting reaction of the voters appears cool.

In Akron a 1 per cent city income tax adopted at a special election in August of 1962 for a period of six years ending next Jan. 1 is up for renewal. And renewal is asked on a continuing basis rather than for a six-year term.

In Canton it is proposed to increase a 1 per cent city income tax adopted in 1955 to 1½ per cent so it would yield about $6 million a year instead of the present $4 million. The added money would be used to boost pay for police, firemen and other city employes, for operating revenue, and for a police-firemen pension fund debt.

105 Are 'Booked' At County's Jail

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan reports the Columbiana County Jail received 105 prisoners during April in addition to the 54 confined as of April 1. The jail also booked 105 prisoners in March.

The sheriff said 110 prisoners were released last month. Seven were conveyed to state institutions and a mental patient was taken to a state hospital.

Jail cooks served 4,204 meals, compared with 4,167 in March. The average daily food cost per prisoner was $1.16, the sheriff said. There were 403 visitors at the jail last month, compared with 277 in March.

Deputies served 422 papers and handled 4,823 radio transmissions and 1,503 telephone calls. Fees totaling $829 were collected.

The sheriff's office at the Courthouse accepted 17 sets of fox feet and ears for the $3 bounty last month.

Popular word for a policeman in Great Britain is "bobby." The name stems from the first name of Sir Robert Peel, who established the first modern metropolitan police administration in London in 1829.

Engineers, Probers To Visit Bridge Site

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP) — Federal engineers and members of the board of inquiry probing the Silver Bridge disaster will visit the bridge reassembly site here today prior to a May 7 public hearing in Charleston.

Pieces of the bridge, which collapsed in December, killing 46 persons, are being reassembled on a 20-acre site on the Ohio River banks south of here. Federal investigators have already found a cracked "eyebar" which might have caused the collapse. But the exact cause has not yet been pinpointed.

Of all species of sea birds, Wilson's petrels are the most abundant.

High school golf teams in Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania all know what birdies and pars are, but that's about the only thing they have in common.

Golf scores are reported anywhere from 3-2 to 180-187, depending on what scoring system is used. In Pennsylvania, usually 18 holes are played, never in Ohio and West Virginia.

Some Ohio teams use stroke play, with the total number of team strokes counting. Sometimes only four men are used, sometimes five, throwing out the worst score. This system could lead to a case where four of the five men on a team beat their opponents, but the team could lose if the fifth man blows to a 55 and his opponent scores low enough.

Some Ohio teams use match play, one point per nine holes. This leads to the 3-2 scores. In West Virginia, there are three points per nine holes, plus a point for low medal. Scores come out like 12-4. In Pennsylvania, there are three points per 18 holes, based on match play, and the low medal is used only in case of ties in the total match. Western Beaver won such a match recently in a playoff.

There is no suggestion here that the states adopt uniform rules. In Ohio and West Virginia there is no sentiment for giving the players a half-day off to play 18 holes. But the suggestion here is that match play should be the key, not medal play. The player should have to beat his opponent, head-to-head, and not rely on his teammates. This is where the real competition in golf lies, at least on an amateur level. Jack Nicklaus may go out thinking he has to beat the other 80 players in a tournament, but in high school it should be enough that you beat your opponent, and not worry that a 9 on a hole has ruined your team's chances.

DAVE HUMPHREY, all-county tackle from Beaver Local, will attend Baldwin-Wallace. Humphrey played both offensive and defensive tackle and was also all-Buckeye Border Conference and co-captain of the Beaver Local team. He is 6-0, 200.

OHIO U. is gunning for a world record in the 880-yard relay, after turning in a 1:23.7 mark in the Drake relays. The present world mark is a 1:22.1 clocking by San Jose State in 1967. Ohio U.'s team is anchored by Emmett Taylor, who did a :19.8 anchor leg at Drake. Roger Hosler, Ben Smith and Dick Fulmer are the others on the team. The same quartet was clocked in 3:08.1 in the mile relay, an Ohio collegiate record. Taylor did a :45.1 anchor leg in this event.

TIM ANDERSON of Follansbee is expected to be a starting defensive halfback at Ohio State this fall, despite being only a sophomore. Mark Stier of Louisville is expected to retain his linebacking position.

McDowell Strikes Out 16, Indians Beat Oakland 3-1

A's Get 3 Hits

Associated Press Sports Writer

Suddenly, the flame was back.

Sam McDowells fastball and his pace against the Oakland Athletics convinced some people he was going to a fire.

McDowell struck out 16 batters—two short of the nine inning major league record—and pitched Cleveland to a 3-1 victory over the Athletics Wednesday night.

And he did it with only 119 pitches in two hours, 11 minutes—near record time for McDowell, who usually throws a lot more pitches and takes a lot longer doing it.

"Gentlemen," he marvelled afterwards, "you have just seen the eighth wonder of the world. Only 119 pitches in two hours, 11 minutes. I never thought I'd see the day."

In other American League action Wednesday night, Tommy John struck out 12 and pitched Chicago to a 4-1 victory over Washington, California downed Boston 5-3, Detroit shaded Minnesota 3-2 and Baltimore belted New York 6-1.

McDowell, who has had arm trouble in the past, had no trouble with the Athletics, who managed just three hits. He retired 20 men in a row after yielding an unearned run in the third inning.

Jim "Blue Moon" Odom was doing a pretty fair job of pitching for the A's. He retired the first 15 Cleveland batters but Chico Salmons sixth inning single broke that spell and McDowell's single drove in the Indians' first run.

Tony Horton and Duke Sims singled in the seventh and Horton scored the tie-breaking run on a passed ball. Then Salmon's second hit brought Sims in.

The White Sox won their third game and John captured his second with a strong effort against the Senators. He shut Washington out on three hits over the first eight innings before yielding a run with two out in the ninth.

By then, Chicago was in control with a 4-0 edge—half of it provided by Luis Aparicios first home run of the season. Frank Bertaina was the loser.

Dave Johnson drove in three runs and Boog Powell two as the Orioles whipped the Yankees on rookie Dave Leonhard's five-hitter. Curt Blefary and Brooks Robinson twice keyed Stottlemyre was tagged with the loss.

Roger Repoz delivered two giving the Angels their victory over the Red Sox, who dropped their fourth straight. A double steal by Bobby Knoop and Paul Schaal preceded Repoz' hit Reliever Jack Hamilton, making his first appearance in Fenway Park since beaning Boston's Tony Conigliaro last August 18, was greeted with a chorus of boos and tagged for a first pitch single by Ken Harrelson that drove in two runs and tied the game in the eighth. He was the winning pitcher though.

Willie Horton's eighth inning sacrifice fly delivered Dick McAuliffe with Detroit's winning run against Minnesota. out triple before Horton's fly ball.

Jim Northrup socked a two-run homer for the Tigers and Rich Reese and Harmon Killebrew had bases empty shots for the Twins.

Pirates Beat Cubs 4-0, McBean Gets 4th Win

Clendenon Stars

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leo Durocher'e Chicago Cubs were the only losers in the National League Wednesday night who failed to carry the fight at least into the ninth inning and you can imagine how Leo felt about it.

You'll have to imagine, in fact, because Leo isn't talking.

After Pittsburgh beat the Cubs 4-0, Durocher barred reporters from the dressing room for the second straight night, waited until the players had dressed and then marched everybody out past the waiting reporters en masse without so much as a "no comment."

He couldn't have had much to say about Pirate pitcher Al McBean, anyway. The right-hander escaped some early-inning problems to shut out the Cubs on just six hits, getting good support from Donn Clendenon and Manny Mota.

Clendenon singled in a run in the first and homered in the seventh Mota added a couple of runs with a two-run double in the eighth.

McBean gave up five hits and walked two batters in the first three innings, then kept the Cubs hitless until the ninth. Rich Nye prevented the Pirates from scoring after the first inning until Clendenon's homer in the seventh.

Things were considerably tighter in the rest of the league. The New York Mets carried Philadelphia into the 11th inning before bowing 7-2. And Houston battled St. Louis for 12 innings until beaten 3-1.

Both West Coast games went into the ninth inning before they were decided, Cincinnati beating San Francisco 6-5 and Atlanta dispatching Los Angeles 7-3.

Though Durocher wouldn't talk to the writers, he did have a thing or two to say to the umpires. He protested the game, saying Pirate Manager Larry Shepard visited McBean twice in the eighth inning which is against league rules.

Umpire Shag Crawford said that when catcher Jerry May was slightly injured, Shepard asked for, and received, permission to make the trips to the mound and that it is within an umpire's jurisdiction to allow them.

Tony Taylor's fourth hit of the evening, a bases-loaded triple, brought the Phillies their victory over the Mets as Larry Jackson won his 20th career game over the New Yorkers. Only Don Drysdale, with 21 triumphs, has beaten the Mets more often.

It was another triple, this one by Julian Javier, that broke up the Cardinals-Astros game. Javier's hit drove in Johnny Edwards, who had singled, and gave St. Louis its eighth victory in nine games. Houston has now lost 10 of 12.

Willie Mays hit two home runs for the 57th time in his major-league career, but it was not enough to beat the Reds. Right fielder Dave Marshall dropped Leo Cardenas' fly in the ninth inning and Cardenas went all the way to third. He scored moments later on Mack Jones' sacrifice fly.

Tito Francona drove in the tie-breaking run and Clete Boyer doubled in two more in the ninth inning for the Braves' victory. The Dodgers tied the score 3-3 in the eighth, Willie Davis tripling in a run. Davis also homered.

U.S. Davis Cup Quest Starts Tomorrow

By ED YOUNG
Associated Press Sports Writer

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The United States opens its 1968 quest of the Davis Cup Friday in matches against the British Caribbean.

Richmond native Arthur Ashe, No. 2-ranked U.S. amateur; Clark Graebner, No. 4 of New York; Stan Smith, No. 7, of Pasadena, Calif., and Bob Lutz, No. 10, of Los Angeles, make up the team representing this country in the first round American zone competition at Byrd Park.

Ashe and Graebner in the singles, Smith and Lutz in the doubles will square off in the three-day matches against a British Caribbean team composed of the same players who fell to the United States, 5-0, last year — Richard Russell, Lance Lumsden and David Tate.

Two singles are on tap Friday, doubles on Saturday, and two singles on Sunday.

Donald Dell, onetime nationally ranked amateur now a lawyer in Bethesda, Md., has succeeded George MacCall as non-playing captain of the U.S. team.

"I'm sick and tired of the question, 'what's wrong with American tennis,' " said Dell. "We hope to have the answer by December — in the Challenge Round against Australia. My sole desire is to return the Davis Cup to America."

Pipers Deadlock Series

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The battle for the first championship of the American Basketball Association moved back to Pittsburgh today for the playoff game Saturday night.

The Pittsburgh Pipers tied the best-of-7 series at 3-3 Wednesday night by whipping New Orleans 112-108 after the Bucs blew a 13-point halftime lead.

The Pipers made good on seven straight foul shots in the final two minutes for their victory margin.

Connie Hawkins, the Most Valuable Player in the ABA, contributed 41 points to the Piper cause and, despite as injured leg, was the only one on either team to play the entire game.

The Bucs lost the game in the third quarter when the Pipers began to move and tied the score at 93-93.

The Pipers went ahead to stay early in the fourth period on two baskets each by Charlie Williams and Art Heyman for a 101-97 lead.

JACK ADAMS

Red Wings Executive Adams Dies

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Adams, whose fiery temper and stark dedication as a player, coach and general manager helped mold the National Hockey League, died Wednesday at the age of 73.

Adams suffered a fatal heart attack at his Detroit office where he had run the Central Professional Hockey League for five years.

Adams, who helped found the league in 1963, served as its president with the same quicksilver temper and loving dedication which marked his 44-year NHL career, including 35 as coach and general manager of the Detroit Red Wings.

Adams discovered Wings' superstar Gordie Howe and was one of the few men to have his name inscribed on the Stanley Cup as a player, coach and general manager.

"It's a real sad day for hockey," said Clarence Campbell, NHL president. "He was a very close personal friend of mine."

Howe, signed by Adams at the age of 16 in 1946, said "I felt sick when I heard the news about Jack Adams' death. Mr. Adams was like a father to me."

Adams, coach and general manager of the Wings from 1927 to 1962, when he retired, built Detroit's greatest teams around Howe and the Wings famed "Production Line" of the early 1950s. On the line with Howe were Sid Abel, current manager-coach of the Wings, and Ted Lindsay.

The Wings won 12 NHL titles, including a record seven in a row during Howe's heyday from 1949 to 1955, and seven Stanley Cups.

Minnesota Wins 5-1, Evens NHL Playoffs

By LEW FERGUSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota had just shelled St. Louis 5-1 Wednesday night to deadlock the National Hockey League West Division best-of-7 final playoff series at three games each. But Blues' Coach Scotty Bowman had a twinkle in his eye and a wry smile on his lips.

"We lost only one of our last 18 games at home before the playoffs," Bowman said and winked at newsmen. "Let's just hope we keep it up."

The reason Bowman was so chipper following defeat was the fact that the Blues and North Stars return to St. Louis for the final and deciding game of the series Friday night. And in playoff hockey, both Bowman and Minnesota's Wren Blair agree, the home ice is half the battle.

Friday's winner goes against the Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup championship series opening Sunday afternoon.

"That's the reward for finishing third," Bowman said, recalling how St. Louis won the last two games of the season from Minnesota to wrest third place from the North Stars. "We've had a real good home record."

"It will be tough for us," Blair conceded. "I just hope our guys can do it. They've really earned a shot at Montreal the way they've played."

Minnesota popped in two first-period goals Wednesday night, and St. Louis never got any closer than that two-goal deficit the rest of the way.

Sports Quiz

Here is a sports quiz to test the knowledge of area sports fans.

The quiz will appear in The Review every Thursday, along with the answers to the preceeding week's quiz and the names of the people who got the most questions right.

The questions are not meant to be easy, and pertain in many cases to what is sometimes called "sports trivia." Please do not phone the Review with answers or questions about the quiz. Answers may be mailed in or dropped off at the Review before noon on Wednesdays.

From last week's record number of entries there was a sharp drop-off this week. The only entry received was from Bob Printz, address unknown, and he had no correct answers.

The first pinch-hitter in the major leagues was J. J. Doyle of the Cleveland team on June 7, 1892. Tony Gonzales was traded with Lee Walls for Harry Anderson, Wally Post and Fred Hopke. Cookie Rojas was traded for Jim Owens. Bernie Allen started his minor league career at Charlotte, N.C. Myron (Moe) Drabowsky of the Orioles was born in Ozanna, Poland. Joe Nossek and Frank Quilici were both college All-Americans in 1961 from the Mid-American Conference. Nossek attended Ohio U., Quilici Western Michigan. Dick Ellsworth of the Red Sox was born in Lusk, Wyoming. Athletes who have combined pro baseball and basketball careers are Gene Conley, Dave DeBusschere and Ron Reed. Bob Friend attended Purdue.

This week's questions:

1. In what current popular song is Joe DeMaggio mentioned?
2. Who are the three players to hit home runs onto or over the right field roof at Forbes Field?
3. Who was the first player to hit a home run onto or over the right field roof at Forbes Field?

Lions Swing Deal, Get Rams' Munson

DETROIT (AP) — "Four for one is pretty hard to believe," said Milt Plum, Detroit's on-again, off-again, sometimes quarterback who became Los Angeles Rams' property Wednesday.

That was his assessment of the deal that sent him, halfback Tommy Watkins, flanker Pat Studstill and 1969 first-round draft rights from Detroit to Los Angeles.

In exchange, the Lions got the Rams' 1969 third-round draft rights and quarterback Bill Munson, who hasn't been able to bump Roman Gabriel out of the starting job at LA but is expected to help straighten out Detroit's signal-calling short-comings.

Munson reportedly received a long-term contract with an estimated $365,000 over the period.

The bundle, plus the players and draft rights involved, was a high price, acknowledged Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt, "but I definitely felt that we needed a

"If you're going to go with new quarterback and in my book Munson was the best one available."

Plum, in an interview, suggested Detroit's quarterbacking problems were compounded by Schmidt's system of alternating his quarterbacks from week to week with little advance word on which would start each game.

Tennis Pros Want More Prize Money

LONDON (AP) — The first signs of a rift between professional and amateur tennis threatened today to halt the progress of open tournaments.

American promoter George MacCall was reporteed planning to pull his 10 stars out of the Kent Championships at Beckenham — one of the open tournaments scheduled to precede Wimbledon.

He said the prize money offered was not big enough and started planning a rival tournament of his own at Eastbourne.

Officials of the Kent Championships reacted angrily and complained to the British Lawn Tennis Association. Laurie McCallum, organizer of the tournament, said: "I hope we can still sort out the situation."

The International Lawn Tennis Federation sanctioned open tournaments a month ago and allotted four open events to Britain this year.

The first—the British Hard Court Championships at Bournemouth last week—was won by Ken Rosewall, one of MacCall's professionals.

MacCall said then he was undecided whether to enter his players in the two events—the Kent and the London Championships at Queen's Club.

McCallum said today MacCall had now told him his players would not compete at Beckenham because the prize money was too low.

There is a first prize of $1,200 in the men's singles and $720 in the women's.

YOUR CAR

By Al Green

HELP TO STAY OUT OF CAR WRECKS THIS way: Watch ahead for any change in the normal flow of traffic, such as slowdowns, or evasive action by other drivers. This may indicate some driving problem ahead you can't see. So slow down and be watchful and ready!

ONE OF THE FIRST LICENSED WOMEN drivers was Mrs. John Howell Phillips of Chicago in 1899. Another woman drove a Locomobile car in a race in New York city in 1898. Yes, her car skidded and five spectators were knocked down.

LET THAT OTHER DRIVER INTO LINE! If you get to the office early the boss has that much more time to chew you out!

SOME OF THE NATION'S BIGGEST CAR producers and gas distributors have launched a co-op program to speed reduction of exhaust emission from gasoline engines. The group has a $7 million budget for a 3-year research program. Underway are 15 projects!

YES! MORE TRUCKS ARE USED TODAY for pleasure than for business! And we have both kinds here at M & A MOTORS DODGE, your Dodge Truck Headquarters in Wellsville and East Liverpool. If you need any truck for any purpose, Dodge probably makes one to fit your job! Stop by this week and see!

DO YOU TAKE ANY TYPE OF PRESCRIPTION or non-prescription drug? Be sure it won't affect you adversely when you drive. If you are on any medication, let someone else do the driving!

Kentucky Derby Field Narrowed To Fourteen

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A field of 14 3-year-olds were expected to be entered today for Saturday's 94th running of the Kentucky Derby.

One of the colts likely to go postward in the 1¼-mile classic, the first jewel in thoroughbred racing's Triple Crown, was Forward Pass.

The Henry Forrest-trained winner of four stakes this year, including the Florida Derby and the Blue Grass, would be Calumet Farm's first Kentucky Derby horse since Tim Tam won in 1958.

Other top candidates included Peter Fuller's Dancer's Image, Cain Hoy Stable's Captain's Gig, October House Farm's Iron Ruler and Mrs. Montgomery Fisher's Proper Proof, who won Tuesday's Derby Trial.

If 14 start, the gross value of the race would be worth $165,000, with $122,600 to the winner. The first money would be exceeded only by the $123,450 won by Needles in 1956.

Post time is 4:38 p.m., EDT. be exceeded only by the $123,450 won by Needles in 1956.

Post time is 4:38 p.m., EDT. The race will nationally be televised from 4-5 p.m., EDT, by CBS and will be carried on radio from 4:20-4:50 p.m., also by CBS.

With Derby Day growing near, Churchill Downs continued to get ready for the traditional crowd of 100,000 which required about 10,000 employes to handle.

Stanton Invitational To Be Run Saturday

The second annual Stanton Invitational Track Meet will be held Saturday, with the track preliminaries and the field finals beginning at 2:30 p. m. and the track finals beginning at 6:30.

Stanton is the defending champion, having edged Wellsville by 1¼ points last year. The Tigers will be back, along with Beaver Local, United, Greenford, Southern Local, Jefferson Union, Springfield, Hopedale and possibly Crestview.

Many individuals are returning to defend titles. These are Dan Smith of Stanton, who did :16.5 in the high hurdles; Bill Reed of Wellsville, who did 4:50.8 in the mile; John Mick of Wellsville, who did 2:07.5 in the 880 and Ken Kornbau of Wellsville, who did 10:53.7 in the two - mile.

Not returning are Mark Dagenhardt of Brilliant, who won the 100 in :10.5 and the low hurdles in :21.1; Jack Young of Wellsville, who did :53.1 in the 440; Todd Weekly of Wellsville, who did :23.3 in the 220; Mike Wrable of Springfield, who did 43-1½ in the shot; Tom Bodo of Jefferson Union, who did 5-6 in the high jump; Norm Grimm of Stanton, who did 131-1 in the discus; Ed Whitmore of Springfield, who did 19-10 in the broad jump, and Joe Wickham of Stanton, who did 11-1 in the pole vault.

Stanton won all the relays, doing 1:36.4 in the 880, 3:36.5 in the mile and :59.3 in the shuttle hurdles.

The championship and runner-up teams will get trophies. The winning relay teams will get plaques and the first five finishers in each event will get ribbons.

Stanton coach Harry Diehl is meet director.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS

QUESTION: How do birds fly?

ANSWER: A bird's body is amazingly well adapted to flight. It is very light, with hollow bones, many filled with air. The shape of the wing tends to create an uplifting force, just as an airplane wing does. Check the upper picture. A bird's wings are rounded on top, flatter below. Air takes longer to pass over the top, which reduces air pressure there, allowing the greater air pressure below to push the bird up. Follow the movements of our flying swan, looking at each row from left to right. If you do this rapidly, you can see the swan flap his wings. In the first four positions, the wings are straight out with feathers overlapping so the air can't get through. This is the power stroke, pushing the bird up forward. Notice in the Next four positions that the wings are lifted up half folded. The feathers separate — the wing resists the air less on this upstroke. Then, with the position at the lower right, our swan is set to begin again the powerful downward stroke which, in connection with the principle explained at first, enables him to fly.
